Excerpt from Opera Singers a Pictorial Souvenir With Biographies of Some of the Most Famous Singers of the Day I have gathered here a series of costume and other portraits of the grand opera singers best known to American opera goers of today To these I have added a set of pictures taken during the long tours made by the Maurice Grau Company showing many famous singers in moments of relaxation on the road They are interesting as giving intimate glimpses of opera folk whom the public has seen only under the glare of the footlights and in character Prima donnas tenors baritones and basses are seen here as men and women As a whole the illustrations in this book many from the studio of Aime Dupont are believed to form the most interesting and complete collection of its kind ever published In addition to these pictures I have written a series of biographies of some of the most famous opera singers of the day from the viewpoint of the American public Possibly the most interesting fact connected with the majority of these lives is that they are absolutely authentic the facts being taken down from the lips of the singers themselves For this new and enlarged edition I have added the biographies of Mile Ternino and Stg Caruso together with portraits of some of the newcomers Somewhat anecdotal but none the less authentic is the Opera Singers Off Duty which I have added to the biographies Lest the above should not fully explain the limitations as well as the scope of the book I desire to disclaim any attempt at a critical work The book is intended foremost for a Pictorial Souvenir and I have considered the gathering of the illustrations quite as important a part of my task or rather pleasure as the preparation of the letterpress My thanks are due to the publishers of Harper s Weekly and the Woman s Home Companion for permission to use in this book matter which I have contributed to these periodicals About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

My Golden Age of Singing Frieda Hempel,1998 Frieda Hempel 1885 1955 was among the brightest stars of opera s Golden Age one of the first singers whose entire career could be documented by recordings These captured a coloratura voice of great lyric beauty which Hempel used with remarkable intelligence in opera and on the concert stage She created the Marschallin in Der Rosenkavalier in both Berlin and at the Met where she debuted with Caruso in 1912 and her performances of Mozart and Verdi remain touchstones Almost fifty years have elapsed between writing and publication of her autobiography Elizabeth Johnston Hempel s student secretary and companion recalls that Hempel dictated a somewhat different account to her which was published in German in 1955 as Mein Leben dem Gesang But Johnston wisely arranged safekeeping for her mentor s original manuscript an earlier version in which Hempel tells the definitive story of her life as she wished it to be known That work appears here for the first time
