

The background of the slide is a close-up photograph of numerous water droplets of various sizes on a dark, reflective surface. The droplets are illuminated from above, creating bright highlights and soft shadows, giving them a three-dimensional appearance. The overall color palette is dark and moody, with shades of black, grey, and muted green.

Speculative Grammarology Deborah Goldgaber, 2020-10-08 Looking mainly at Derrida's early work the three texts published in 1967 Of Grammatology Speech and Phenomenon and Writing and Difference Deborah Goldgaber opens the conversation between deconstruction and speculative realism She shows that grammatology implies an original form of philosophical materialism and identifies the salience of deconstructive materialism to contemporary philosophical debates She demonstrates that Derrida's claims about writing's absolute generality that writing pertains to more than just language extend to living and material processes However though grammatology generalises writing it radically displaces scriptural models with a novel schema that of the mnemonic trace Goldgaber highlights the productive resources that Derridean writing has to offer contemporary materialist projects including those of Karen Barad Catherine Malabou and Quentin Meillassoux These fresh insights will inspire new dialogues among everyone interested in Derrida as well as in Speculative Realism and New Materialism

Doubt, Scholarship and Society in 17th-Century Central Sudanic Africa Dorrit van Dalen, 2016-07-11 The seventeenth century was a period of major social change in central sudanic Africa Islam spread from royal courts to rural communities leading to new identities new boundaries and new tasks for experts of the religion Addressing these issues the Bornu scholar Mu ammad al W l acquired an exceptional reputation Dorrit van Dalen's study places him within his intellectual environment and portrays him as responding to the concerns of ordinary Muslims It shows that scholars on the geographical margins of the Muslim world participated in the debates in the centres of Muslim learning of the time but on their own terms Al W l s work also sheds light on a century in the Islamic history of West Africa that has until now received little attention

What makes a text a text? Ulrike Gabert, 2020-09-14 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 3 AKAD University of Applied Sciences Stuttgart language English abstract In this essay the question of what makes a text a text will be discussed The seven key criteria of textuality defined by Beaugrande and Dressler will be explained using an example of a classic American drama The question at what point a text is a text or whether a text can be called a text at all is one of the core questions of linguistics and goes all the way back to the ancient Greek language theory of Plato and Aristotle which dealt with this topic at the most basic level In the 1960s the expression text became a focus of linguists with the development several definitions of what a text is Since then numerous definitions have been formed and there is no consensus about which one is the best but one can find many similarities among them The 1981 work of the Austrian linguists Robert Alain de Beaugrande and Wolfgang U Dressler has been used as the basis for many discussions and definitions of text ever since Their work is often seen as a good framework for agreement which is based on seven criteria of textuality

Progressive Intertextual Practice in Modern And Contemporary Literature Katherine Ebury, Christin M. Mulligan, 2024-05-07 This edited volume aims to reposition intertextuality in relation to recent trends in critical practice Inspired by the work of Sara Ahmed in particular our authors explore and reconfigure classic theories of authorship influence and the text including those by Roland Barthes Michel Foucault and Harold Bloom updating these conversations to include intersectionality specifically broadly understood to include gendered racial and other forms of social justice including disability and the progressive impact of the transmission and transformation of texts This diverse volume includes discussions of major canonical works such as James Joyce s Ulysses alongside the recent contemporary literature by authors such as Siri Husvedt and Maggie O Farrell as well as theoretical interventions This volume also engages with how intertextuality can facilitate interdisciplinary and ekphrastic thinking and representation as the inspiration of music and the visual arts for texts and their transmission is addressed The choice of intertexts become deliberately political ethical and artistic signifiers for the authors discussed in this volume and our contributors are thus enabled to address topics ranging from visual impairment to Shakespearean motherhood to the influence of Jazz culture on writing on the Northern Irish Troubles

What makes a text a text? Criteria for text functionality , 2020-10-08 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Literature General grade 1 3 AKAD University of Applied Sciences Stuttgart language English abstract Can sentences or words that express statements or questions by any means be accepted as a text Must a text be informative and well intended to its recipients to be valued as textual or does it solely need to be meaningful and suitable for the context Furthermore what exactly does the word text or textual even mean Although one may have an intuitive understanding of what a text is it can be necessary to establish a clear distinction between a text and a non text The understanding of what makes a text a text is particularly interesting not only for translators interpreters or linguists to mention only a few but also for anyone who aims to produce comprehensible texts The knowledge helps to produce texts where clear references of textuality can be made visible Panjab University Research Journal ,2008 The New Media Reader Noah Wardrip-Fruin,Nick Montfort,2003-02-14 A sourcebook of historical written texts video documentation and working programs that form the foundation of new media This reader collects the texts videos and computer programs many of them now almost impossible to find that chronicle the history and form the foundation of the still emerging field of new media General introductions by Janet Murray and Lev Manovich along with short introductions to each of the texts place the works in their historical context and explain their significance The texts were originally published between World War II when digital computing cybernetic feedback and early notions of hypertext and the Internet first appeared and the emergence of the World Wide Web when they entered the mainstream of public life The texts are by computer scientists artists architects literary writers interface designers cultural critics and individuals working across disciplines The contributors include chronologically Jorge Luis Borges Vannevar Bush Alan Turing Ivan Sutherland William S Burroughs Ted Nelson Italo Calvino Marshall McLuhan Jean Baudrillard Nicholas Negroponte Alan Kay Bill Viola Sherry Turkle Richard Stallman Brenda Laurel Langdon Winner Robert Coover and Tim Berners Lee The CD accompanying the book contains examples of early games digital art independent literary efforts software created at universities and home computer commercial software Also on the CD is digitized video documenting new media programs and artwork for which no operational version exists One example is a video record of Douglas Engelbart s first presentation of the mouse word processor hyperlink computer supported cooperative work video conferencing and the dividing up of the screen we now call non overlapping windows another is documentation of Lynn Hershman s Lorna the first interactive video art installation Imagined Realities - Meaning and Textuality in the Middle Ages ,2003 The Press, the State and Hegemony Hong-Won Park,1999 Phenomenology + Pedagogy ,1986 Special Language Christer Laurén,Marianne Nordman,1989 This book is an attempt to intensify the contacts between different research traditions within LSP research It represents the latest studies in the field of LSP research Writing and Reading Differently George Douglas Atkins,Michael L.
