Monet On The Normandy Coast:

Monet on the Normandy Coast Robert L. Herbert, 1996-09-01 This study presents an interpretation of Monet's seascapes of the Normandy coast arguing that Monet's modernity lay in his production of neo romantic myths. The author interweaves the history of the sea resorts analysis and details of Monet's life and reflections on the marketing of his work.

Claude Monet's Normandy Coast Paintings Regina Michelle Schreck-Gaskin, 1999 Monet at Étretat Chiyo Ishikawa, 2021-06-05 One understudied aspect of the life and works of Oscar Claude Monet 1840 1926 is the artist's engagement with the town of tretat on the Normandy coast of France during the mid 1880s. Monet traveled there twice for extended painting sojourns and eventually created over eighty works more than he painted of any other site away from his home. Through these visits Monet witnessed tretat's shift from a quiet fishing village in a dramatic natural setting to a tourist destination. In this focused study Chiyo Ishikawa places Monet's tretat works within the context of his artistic ambition and frustration at a key moment in his life and career. She also explores the changing relationship between society and landscape in late nineteenth century France. The book features sixteen paintings by Monet and his contemporaries Gustave Courbet Camille Corot and Eug ne Boudin supplemented by photographs and ephemeral material to bring to life Monet's experience in the region. The biographical context in addition to the immersive visual experience offers a vivid account of this significant aspect of Monet's artistic progression. Monet at Vétheuil and on the Norman Coast, 1878-1883 David Joel, 2002 Despite the numerous books on Monet this period at Vétheuil has never before in English been examined in detail. The Lens of Impressionism Carole McNamara, Sylvie Aubenas, Stephen Bann, 2009 The Normandy coast has long captured the interest of artists. Its seascapes are featured in the work of Impressionist masters Monet Manet and Boudin. Its seafaring life is well documented in the work of writers such as Victor Hugo and Guy de Maupassant. Through a stunning selection of paintings photographs and drawings this work argues that a unique convergence of forces social artistic technological and commercial along the Normandy coast impacted the development of early Impressionism and made Normandy a nexus for photographers and the avant garde painters of the late nineteenth century. The framing dates are 1850 when artists began photographing in Normandy and 1874 the year in which Claude Monet's painting Impression Sunrise was exhibited. The Lens of Impressionism explores the dialogue between the two media and the backdrop against which both evolved. Publisher's description.

Celestial Sleuthing Donald W. Olson, 2026-01-01 Many mysteries in art history and literature can be solved using celestial sleuthing including calculating phases of the Moon determining the positions of the planets and stars and identifying celestial objects in paintings. In addition to helping to crack difficult cases such studies spark our imagination and provide a better understanding of the skies. This book shows how weather archives vintage maps historical letters and diaries military records and site visits aid the work. For each artwork historical event or literary passage influenced by astronomy there is a different kind of mystery to be solved. For example how can the position of the Sun and Moon determine the date and time of famous paintings by Vincent van Gogh and Caspar David Friedrich How can astronomy determine a precise date for a work by Wassily Kandinsky a painter best known for abstract works with geometrical shapes and dramatic colors What important battle of ancient history caused a design change with a crescent Moon added to the silver tetradrachms of Athens In what season did Sappho write her iconic work The Midnight Poem Did observers actually report five Moons simultaneously in the sky during the time of King John as recorded in lines from Shakespeare s play Follow these exciting investigations with Donald Olson a master Celestial Sleuth as he tracks down the truth and helps unravel mysteries as far back as ancient history and as recent as World War II

Boat Trains: The English Channel & Ocean Liner Specials Martyn Pring,2021-01-18

A study of the specialty train including its history development and operation beginning at the end of the nineteenth century In many ways this title featuring the evolution of cross channel boat trains and the many dedicated services responsible for moving international passengers to and from trans Atlantic steamers is an extension of luxury railway travel But that s not the full story as it encapsulates more than 125 years of independent and organised tourism development At the end of the nineteenth century faster and more stable twin screw vessels replaced cross channel paddlers resulting in a significant expansion in the numbers of day excursionists and short stay visitors heading to Belgium France and the Channel Islands Continental Europe as it had done since the end of the Napoleonic Wars beckoned introducing ideas of modern day mass tourism Numerous liners bestriding the globe were British domiciled Major ports became hives of commercial activity involving moving freight and mail as well as transporting all manner of travellers Not only was there intense competition for passenger traffic between the Old and New World and Britain s imperial interests greater numbers of well heeled tourists headed off to warmer winter climes and also experimented with the novel idea of using ocean steamers as hotels to visit an array of diverse destinations Cruise tourism and the itinerary had arrived as Ocean Special boat trains became essential components of railway and port procedures Whilst some railway operations were dedicated to emigrant traffic continental and ocean liner boat trains were also synonymous with the most glamorous travel services ever choreographed by shipping lines and railway companies working closely in tandem This well illustrated book explores the many functions of boat train travel This book should appeal to the rail fan the ship enthusiast the connoisseur of travel posters and those interested in the business of transportation I know of nowhere else one can find so much information on boat train operation in one book Well worth a read by anyone interested in the interconnectivity of different means of public transportation Charles H Bogart

Steamship Historical Society of America Monet's Minutes André Dombrowski,2023-01-01 A stunning exploration of the vital links between Claude Monet s Impressionism and the time technologies that helped define modernity in the nineteenth century Monet s Minutes is a revelatory account charting the relationship between the works of Claude Monet 1840 1926 founder of French Impressionism and one of the world s best known painters and the modern experience of time Andr Dombrowski illuminates Monet s celebration of instantaneity in the context of the late nineteenth century time technologies that underwrote it Monet's version of Impressionism demonstrated an acute awareness of the particularly modern pressures of time but until now scholars have not examined the histories and technologies of time and timekeeping that informed Impressionism's major stylistic shifts. Arguing that the fascination with instantaneity rejected the dulling cultures of newly routinized and standardized time, Monet's Minutes traces the evolution of Monet's art to what were then seismic shifts in the shape of time itself. In each chapter Dombrowski focuses on the connections between a set of Monet's works and a specific technology or experience of time while providing the voices of period critics responding to Impressionism. Grounded in exceptional research and analyses, this book offers new interpretations of key works by Monet and a fresh perspective on late nineteenth century art, society and modern temporality.

Paris 1874 Sylvie Patry, Anne Robbins, 2024 On April 15, 1874, the exhibition organized by the Société Anonyme des Artistes Peintres Sculpteurs Graveurs et Lithographes opened its doors in Paris. Monet, Renoir, Degas, Morisot, Cézanne, Pissarro, and Sisley were among the participants. They painted real life as they perceived it: Parisian women dressed in the latest fashions, the capital city bustling with life, and colorful rural landscapes. This new style of painting was dubbed impressionist. This publication takes a fresh look at a now legendary exhibition long seen as the starting point for avant-garde movements that followed. The volume positions it in the context of its time, considering France's defeat by the Prussians and the upheaval of the Commune in 1871, the reconstruction of Paris, and the domination of the official Salon over the art world. Written by French and American experts in the field, this richly illustrated book delves into the ways in which 150 years ago artists asserted their independence and changed the course of history.

The American Neptune, 1996 A quarterly journal of maritime history. Rubens to Picasso: Four Centuries of Master Drawings Victor Chan, University of Alberta, Department of Art and Design, 1995 Rarely seen drawings by 64 masters including Braque, Cézanne, Degas, Gauguin, Hugo, Klee, Manet, Matisse, Modigliani, Mondrian, Monet, Munch, Picasso, Renoir, Rodin, Rubens, Seurat, Toulouse, Lautrec, van Gogh, and Watteau are reproduced in this exceptional collection. Victor Chan provides a full biographical sketch of the individual masters and discusses their art.

Consuming Painting Allison Deutsch, 2021-02-01 In Consuming Painting, Allison Deutsch challenges the pervasive view that Impressionism was above all about visual experience. Focusing on the language of food and consumption as they were used by such prominent critics as Baudelaire and Zola, she writes new histories for familiar works by Manet, Monet, Caillebotte, and Pissarro, and creates fresh possibilities for experiencing and interpreting them. Examining the culinary metaphors that the most influential critics used to express their attraction or disgust toward painting, Deutsch rethinks French modern life painting in relation to the visceral reactions that these works evoked in their earliest publics. Writers posed viewing as analogous to ingestion and used comparisons to food to describe the appearance of paint and the painter's process. The food metaphors they chose were aligned with specific female types such as red meat for sexualized female flesh confections for fashionably made up women and hearty vegetables for agricultural laborers These culinary figures of speech Deutsch argues provide important insights into both the fabrication of the feminine and the construction of masculinity in nineteenth century France Consuming Painting exposes the social politics at stake in the deeply gendered metaphors of sense and sensation Original and convincing Consuming Painting upends traditional narratives of the sensory reception of modern painting This trailblazing book is essential reading for specialists in nineteenth century art and criticism gender studies and modernism
