regulating data monopoly by exploring the causes and characteristics of their anti competitive behavior It studies four aspects of the differences between data monopoly and traditional monopolistic behavior namely defining the relevant market for data monopolies the entry barrier the problem of determining the dominant position of data monopoly and the influence on consumer welfare It points out the limitations of traditional regulatory tools and discusses how new regulatory methods could be developed within the competition legal framework to restrict data monopolies It proposes how economic analytical tools used in traditional anti monopoly law are facing challenges and how competition enforcement agencies could adjust regulatory methods to deal with new anti competitive behavior by data monopolies
