McClintock,1876     Philosophies of Technology: Francis Bacon and his Contemporaries (2 vols.) ,2008-10-31 The essays in the present volume attempt to historically reconstruct the various dependencies of philosophical and scientific knowledge of the material and technical culture of the early modern era and to draw systematic conclusions for the writing of early modern history of science The divisive transformation of humanist scholarly culture the Scholastic school philosophy as well as magic in the form of a philosophy of practice is always associated with the work of Francis Bacon All of these essays in this volume reflect the close interaction between technical models and knowledge production in natural philosophy natural history and epistemology It becomes clear that the technological developments of the early modern era cannot be adequately depicted in the form of a pure history of technology but rather only as part of a broader cultural history of the sciences of the Concept of Mind Paul S. Macdonald,2019-07-23 Exploring the roads less travelled MacDonald continues his monumental essay in the history of ideas The history of heterodox ideas about the concept of mind takes the reader from the earliest records about human nature in Ancient Egypt the Ancient Near East and the Zoroastrian religion through the secret teachings in the Hermetic and Gnostic scriptures and into the transformation of ideas about the mind soul and spirit in the late antique and early medieval epochs These transitions include discussion of the influence of Central Asian shamanism Manichean ideas about the soul in light and darkness and Neoplatonic theurgy working on god within Sections on the medieval period are concerned with the rediscovery of magical practices and occult doctrines from Roger Bacon to Francis Bacon the adaptation of Neoplatonic and esoteric ideas in the medieval Christian mystics and the survival of these ideas mixed with natural science in the works of von Helmont Leibniz and Goethe The book concludes with an investigation of the many forms of dualism in accounts of the human mind and soul and the concept of dual life which underpins our aspiration to understand how humans could have an immortal nature like the gods     Book Notes ,1906     Book Catalogue ,1844
