

WHAT IS IRONY?

Irony is a rhetorical device and a form of expression where something is said different from what is actually meant.

It's a clever play on words that involves a hidden or opposite meaning to the literal sense, often with a touch of sarcasm or humor.

Irony is used to emphasize criticism, make a subtle mockery, or highlight the discrepancy between what is said and what is actually meant.

It requires contextual understanding and an appreciation of the speaker's intentions to be fully appreciated.

Meaning Of Irony:

The Meaning of Irony Frank Stringfellow, 1994-01-01 Genuinely interdisciplinary in approach The Meaning of Irony brings together literary analysis and from psychoanalysis both theory and case studies Its investigation ranges from everyday examples of verbal irony conscious and unconscious to the complex irony of literature This book provides the first full account of verbal irony from a psychoanalytic point of view Stringfellow shows how the rhetorical tradition by viewing the literal level of irony as something the speaker doesn't really mean flattens out the rich ambiguities of irony and misses the unconscious meanings that are hidden behind ironic statement He argues that only psychoanalysis can recover these unconscious meanings and reveal the origins of irony

Semiotics: Principles & Problems Yiheng Zhao, 2025-03-06 This book attempts to build semiotics on a new foundation which is meaning making At the very beginning the central terms of signs and semiotics are redefined as the old definition for sign one thing standing for another is far from satisfactory Sign is a perception that is regarded as carrying meaning In this way semiotics now built on the foundation of meaning making and meaning cognition is a science of meaning All the principles are now under the scrutiny of the new definition and many issues are answered more succinctly Therefore the new definition is extended to the new fields of cultural activities in human society and a series of problems arise This book intends to discuss and explore these questions such as the middle reclining in the cultural markedness the sliding of motivation in art the difficult distinction between falsehood and untruthfulness and the driving force of modernization in China
