Medardo Rosso:

A Moment's Monument Sharon Hecker, 2017-06-13 Medardo Rosso 1858 1928 is one of the most original and influential figures in the history of modern art and this book is the first historically substantiated critical account of his life and work An innovative sculptor photographer and draftsman Rosso was vital in paving the way for the transition from the academic forms of sculpture that persisted in the nineteenth century to the development of new and experimental forms in the twentieth His antimonumental antiheroic work reflected alienation in the modern experience yet also showed deep feeling for interactions between self and other Rosso's art was also transnational he refused allegiance to a single culture or artistic heritage and declared himself both a citizen of the world and a maker of art without national limits In this book Sharon Hecker develops a narrative that is an alternative to the dominant Franco centered perspective on the origin of modern sculpture in which Rodin plays the role of lone heroic innovator Offering an original way to comprehend Rosso A Moment's Monument negotiates the competing cultural imperatives of nationalism and internationalism that shaped the European art world at the fin de siècle

Medardo Rosso Medardo Rosso, 2024-12-24 The Italian artist Medardo Rosso 1858 1928 is without a doubt the great pioneer of modern sculpture His achievement has been recognized in spite of an historiographical blindness that persisted for decades by the artists of his time and by leading figures in the art of the twentieth century Degas Boccioni who made him a lodestar of Futurist sculpture Brancusi Giacometti Fontana Anselmo Thomas Schütte and Juan Muñoz have all acknowledged the lasting significance of his legacy 00By means of an important selection of his sculptures almost all of his photographs and drawings his writings and a number of his letters this complete monograph highlights the complexity of Rosso's creative process and especially his exploration of the limits of form and materiality which resulted in his making different versions of his own works 00Rosso was not a sculptor in the traditional sense Eschewing wood and stone he worked with soft materials such as plaster and wax which lent themselves to the representation of ephemeral effects and subtle forms He produced multiple versions of his works continually varying the forms and materials For Rosso sculpture and the visualization of sculpture were inextricably linked and photography which came to constitute the definitive movement from the point of view of the spectator enabled him to arrive at his ultimate goal the attaining of insubstantial form subjects to show that the manipulation of materials for visual effect was at the heart of his work The book also reproduces and analyses Rosso's fascinating photographs of his own sculpture which offer important clues to the charged relationship he sought to create between viewers and the mysterious busts and figures he made Medardo Rosso Medardo

Medardo Rosso, 2018-03-27 The Italian artist Medardo Rosso 1858 1928 was instrumental in expanding the definition of sculpture for the modern era Focusing on everyday people as his subjects Rosso portrayed fugitive physical or emotional states employing innovative casting and modeling techniques in plaster bronze and wax his signature material Medardo Rosso Experiments in Light and Form features nearly 100 works of sculpture drawing and photography and explores Rosso's efforts to capture and manipulate light It presents extensive installation photography documenting the works on view within the variable natural and artificial light of the Pulitzer Arts Foundation building The book also features original scholarly essays by the exhibition co-curators and other contributors as well as an illustrated checklist presenting a selection of Rosso's lesser known experiments in drawing and photography in addition to some of his most celebrated sculptures Medardo Rosso Medardo Rosso, Dieter Schwarz, 2003 With his figures Italian sculptor Medardo Rosso succeeded in contributing decisively to the development of modern sculpture The artist's points of focus were the moment when the sculpture was perceived and the fusion of the figure with its surroundings He worked almost exclusively on portrait heads wax became a substitute for bronze allowing him to work the surface of the sculpture to its finest perfection and to use different hues adequate expression for the fleetingness of the apparition And they are fleeting one hardly knows if the portrayed faces are receding from the sculpture's surface or pushing up against it In Paris where Rosso spent the greater part of his life he found understanding friends in Edgar Degas and the collector Henri Rouart while friendship with Rodin miscarried because of the rivalry between the two sculptors At around the turn of the century Rosso's sculptures could be seen at many large European exhibitions the Futurists would soon hold him up as a model This publication a scholarly survey of the artist's work makes clear that although Rosso limited himself to very few motifs their many different versions translated into independent works

Schenkenberg, 2016-11-11 Medardo Rosso: Sight Unseen and His Encounters with London Oona Doyle, Julia Peyton-Jones, 2018-07-24 Rosso was a revolutionary sculptor who subverted traditional modeling and casting methods to animate the surfaces of his sculptures He went against prevailing monumental and heroic tendencies by depicting vulnerable subjects such as the poor children and the elderly Some of his works like Enfant au sein late 1889 90 on view at Galerie

Thaddaeus Ropac border on abstraction He adopted a performative approach to sculpture by casting his bronzes in public in a theatrical mise en scene and he invented unique exhibition strategies by installing his work alongside those of other artists

Carter, 2015-05-28 Sixteen essays by a group of emerging and established international scholars examine Paris as a thriving transnational arts community during a period of burgeoning global immigration They address the experiences of important modern artists as well as foreign exiles immigrants students and expatriates within the larger trends of international mobility In doing so they explore the structures that permitted foreign artists to forge connections within and across national communities and contribute to the development of a hybrid and multivalent modern art
