Remembering with Things Ronald Durán Allimant,2023-09-05 We make our life with things surrounded by technical artefacts and technologies They are fundamental in the way we see and act but only sometimes we are plenty aware of this Where do these things come from How were they produced How do they define our possibilities and our identities How do they determine the way we remember and project our future This book explores these and other related questions analysing the relationships between technology material memory and forms of life emphasizing the active and constitutive role that technologies play in our remembering with things It argues that our common understanding of memory and its technological mediation is determined by a static view of technology memory and culture and that this view is burdened by a dualism between the material and the immaterial that overlooks the active role of memory and technology in our present forms of life and in the shaping of our future To overcome this static view and its dualism this book proposes a dynamic view of memory technology and culture emphasising the active and constitute role of technologies in the shaping of our forms of life and including themes unusual in memory studies such as the production of technology and the concept of nature The approach of this book is theoretical and philosophical but interdisciplinary incorporating ideas and concepts from various disciplines particularly the arts humanities and social sciences
