Women's Empowerment in Agrifood Governance (WEAGov) Assessment Framework: Insights from the India Pilot Study Ragasa, Catherine, Kyle, Jordan, Yasmin, Sabina, Pande, Harshita, Sharma, Aanshi, Basu, Sampurna, Najjar, Dina, 2025-02-21 Women's equal participation and leadership in political and public life can boost a country's long-term economic growth, foster social inclusion, and help countries reach the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Beyond these important outcomes, women's inclusion in public life is a basic human right. Women deserve a role in making decisions, controlling resources, and shaping policies. Despite the importance of women's voices and their empowerment in policy and decision-making processes, available metrics show that women's policy and political empowerment remains low. Moreover, these metrics are inadequate in systematically tracking women's voices and empowerment across different levels of decision-making. IFPRI developed an assessment framework, Women's Empowerment in Agrifood Governance (WEAGov), to assess women's voices and empowerment in national policy processes in agrifood systems. This paper presents results from the pilot testing of WEAGov in India from January to March 2024. In this paper, we present how the WEAGov tool works in the Indian context, analyze trends in the data that we collected during the pilot, and provide an overview of the status of women's voices and empowerment in the agrifood policy process as of March 2024. The pilot testing in India provides useful lessons on improving the measurement of these outcomes and offers valuable policy insights on critical entry points for increasing women's voices and empowerment in the national agrifood policy process design, implementation, and evaluation.

Poverty Reduction and Pro-Poor Growth The Role of Empowerment OECD, 2012-04-27 Empowerment of those living in poverty is both a critical driver and an important measure of poverty reduction. This report aims to build donor understanding of empowerment and how best to support it.

The Process of Women's Empowerment Sara Longwe, 2024-09-17 This book begins with a cautionary tale about a development-wide area in rural Zambia with the purpose of lessening the burden of labour on women who previously had to fetch water from faraway streams. The result of the programme was exactly the opposite: it had the actual effect of increasing women's burden of labour. In this book, Longwe and Clarke seek to explain how a more considered approach can avoid such farcical disaster. Central to women's advancement is their own collective participation in the process of recognising and overcoming the instances of systemic gender discrimination which stand in their way. The Longwe Empowerment Framework, which provides the central core of this book, sets out five essential elements of collective action by which women can obtain more control over their own labour and their own lives in a continuous process of increasing collective empowerment. This empowerment process, being self-generative, is seen as being equally as important as the resulting material benefits. Hope Chigudu, a noted feminist and gender consultant, concludes her preface to this book by writing that, in a nutshell, it offers an analytical framework for identifying the potentially progressive and regressive factors to anticipate at each stage of a women's empowerment programme and how to dance with the power.

dynamics that are inevitable in a patriarchal world      Empowered School David H. Hargreaves, David Hopkins, 2004-12-23 The Education Reform Act 1988 and recent legislation aim to raise levels of pupil achievement in particular through the introduction of the National Curriculum and improved self management by schools For governors heads and teachers bringing together these changes will require as part of the new partnership strategies for managing development and change to make the school more effective School development plans are a means of realizing this goal The distinctive feature of a development plan is that it brings together in an overall plan national and LEA policies and initiatives the school s aims and values its existing achievements and its needs for development By co ordinating aspects of planning which are otherwise separate the school acquires a shared sense of direction and is able to control and manage the tasks of development and change This book based on the DES project draws on the experience of LEAs and schools which have pioneered school development plans Besides giving advice on constructing and implementing a school development plan the authors provide a full and practical account of how planning and development need to be managed and what this implies for the way the school is organized at present They also describe how schools can be supported in this process and how development planning fits into current movements for school improvement and effectiveness      Legal Empowerment for Women and Disadvantaged Groups Asian Development Bank, 2009-01-01 Legal empowerment is a powerful tool for reducing poverty It gives people the knowledge skills and confidence to participate in development projects It promotes inclusive growth which reduces poverty by building people s capacity to improve their lives Inclusive growth is a goal of Strategy 2020 which guides the Asian Development Bank ADB in its mission to promote gender equality empower women and achieve the Millennium Development Goals The publication presents the findings of a project funded by ADB carried out by The Asia Foundation and conducted in Bangladesh Indonesia and Pakistan The project aimed to identify and test legal empowerment strategies that increase access to basic social services productive resources and opportunities by women and other disadvantaged groups and to incorporate legal empowerment initiatives into mainstream development projects      Educational Response, Inclusion and Empowerment for SDGs in Emerging Economies Mustafa Öztürk, 2022-08-22 This volume analyzes cases from emerging economies in relation to the global endeavor to promote the vision of sustainable development in all forms of education It aims to discuss the significance of hearing local voices and understanding local discourse regarding strategies for action for change and the role of educational systems as a means to communicate promote and educate for the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs In this book emerging economies are defined as newly industrialized countries that have not yet reached developed status but have in a macro economic sense outpaced their developing counterparts In this context the book highlights how education in emerging economies could extend conventional economic methods to sustainability issues or depart from money based calculations and business dominated values to promotion of real life considerations and ethical environmental and humanistic values With the help of this volume readers will have a chance to look at educational response
