The Literary Monster on Film Abigail Burnham Bloom, 2014-01-10 Many monsters in Victorian British novels were intimately connected with the protagonists and representative of both the personal failings of a character and the failings of the society in which he or she lived By contrast more recent film adaptations of these novels depict the creatures as arbitrarily engaging in senseless violence and suggest a modern fear of the uncontrollable This work analyzes the dichotomy through examinations of Shelley's Frankenstein Stoker's Dracula H Rider Haggard's She Stevenson's Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde and Wells's The Island of Dr Moreau and consideration of the 20th century film adaptations of the works

Dual-process Theories in Social Psychology Shelly Chaiken, Yaacov Trope, 1999-02-19 This informative volume presents the first comprehensive review of research and theory on dual process models of social information processing These models distinguish between qualitatively different modes of information processing in making decisions and solving problems e.g. associative versus rule based controlled versus uncontrolled and affective versus cognitive modes Leading contributors review the basic assumptions of these approaches and review the ways they have been applied and tested in such areas as attitudes stereotyping person perception memory and judgment Also examined are the relationships between different sets of processing modes the factors that determine their utilization and how they work in combination to affect responses to social information The Monster's Corner Christopher Golden, 2011-09-27 An all original anthology from some of today's
