Mughal Architecture:

Architecture of Mughal India Catherine B. Asher, 1992-09-24 In Architecture of Mughal India Catherine Asher presents the first comprehensive study of Mughal architectural achievements. The work is lavishly illustrated and will be widely read by students and specialists of South Asian history and architecture as well as by anyone interested in the magnificent buildings of the Mughal empire. Majesty of Mughal Decoration George Michell, 2007-10-30 An exquisitely illustrated survey of the decorative motifs and visual themes from one of the great artistic periods in Indian history. Mughal decorative arts delight in arabesque and geometric designs as well as scenes of nature flowers, birds and animals and human pleasure music dancing feasting love making. Master craftsmen at the Mughal and Rajput courts employed a variety of materials and techniques to produce marble panels inlaid with semi precious stones sandstone screens perforated with geometric designs brass vessels inlaid with strips of silver and gold jade drinking cups dagger hilts encrusted with rubies and emeralds and costumes and sashes embroidered with silk and golden threads. No less gorgeous were the vividly toned and exquisitely detailed miniature paintings that portrayed contemporary events as well as epic tales. Drawing on the finest and most representative examples in public and private collections in India Europe and America this stunning survey examines common decorative motifs and themes in Mughal art. More than 300 illustrations amply convey the virtuoso workmanship and the sheer elegance of design common to all objects. It will be an essential reference work for art historians designers and anyone interested in the arts and life of India. 300 color photographs and illustrations. Bayana Shokoohy Mehrdad Shokoohy, 2020-03-18 Bayana in Rajasthan and its monuments challenge the perceived but established view of the development of Muslim architecture and urban form in India. At the end of the twelfth century early conquerors took the mighty Hindu fort building the first Muslim city below on virgin ground. They later reconfigured the fort and constructed another town within it. These two towns were the centre of an autonomous region during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Going beyond a simple study of the historic architectural and archaeological remains this book takes on the wider issues of how far the artistic traditions of Bayana which developed independently from those of Delhi later influenced north Indian architecture. It shows how these traditions were the forerunners of the Mughal architectural style which drew many of its features from innovations developed first in Bayana. Mughal Architecture Moritz Herrmann, 2011-06-01 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Art Architecture History of Construction grade 1 3 Manipal University Manipal Institute of Communication course Cultural History of India language English abstract Although India can refer to a proud and very multifaceted history of architecture with the likes of early and later Hindu and Buddhist temples Muslim mosques and palaces and to some degree even the achievements of colonial architecture the creations of the Mughals probably outshine them all not least because one of their finest pieces of art ranks amongst the seven world wonders. The following essay will give an overview over Mughal architecture and hopefully help understanding the ideas behind it. In the very beginning it
