Multicultural Child Care:

Multicultural Child Care Paul Vedder, Ellen Bouwer, Trees Pels, 1996 What is the state of multicultural education in child care centres in Western European countries What should multicultural education in these centres look like These are the two key questions addressed in this book In this study the authors have analysed the state of multicultural education in child care centres in the Netherlands England Scotland Denmark Sweden Germany Belgium France and Spain The main situation considered here is the Netherlands where the recent and rapid growth of the number of child care centres together with the growing numbers of immigrant children visiting these centres have given a strong impetus to concerns about the quality of centre education from a multicultural perspective For centre staff sensitive responses towards children and parents as well as parental involvement have become essential for managing cultural diversity in a way beneficial for both migrant and indigenous families It is argued that defining and improving the quality of centre education from a multicultural perspective require discussions between staff and parents about educational goals and the means to achieve them The book gives recommendations for improving the relationship between staff and parents by way of consensus building about these aims

Handbook on Multicultural Child Development Marcelett C. Henry,2006-06 The training of children is a profession where we must know how to lose time in order to gain it By Jean Jacques Rousseau The purpose of this handbook is for the education of persons who have children work with children or provide services for infants through age five to understand the development of a child and enable child care providers to become more aware of conditions and behaviors that surround the child and to identify problems that require immediate attention It is the responsibility of the child s parents and care providers to address issues that create the barriers to the full and productive development of a child without abrogation of parental rights and responsibilities A child born in the United States today is born into a culturally pluralistic world It is a challenge when culturally different is often viewed as defective depraved or deviant Therefore it is incumbent upon all adults to provide the best possible environment for living learning and respecting each person regardless to individual differences Many children s games have transcended barriers of language culture and forbidding geography Their universality has been noted everywhere in the world where there is the will to help a child Education has been directed to the in school youth and adults over the years Once the child departed the mother s womb it became the sole responsibility of the mother The world has changed significantly for the newborn to age five This does not mean that in school youth and others do not need more knowledge and assistance in this area However it does mean that we must lower the bar to address issues with the very young to prevent future problems This author s has more than 50 years experience with children in school youth adults and others in the areas of parenting teaching counseling and administration of educational programs at many levels It Roots and Wings Stacey York,2016-06-27 Use the updated activities examples and research to improve your anti bias and multicultural education programs This clear and practical guide includes expanded information on English language learners family engagement culturally responsive teaching and staff training Stacey York teaches child development at Rochester Community and Technical College and established E LECT a collaborative effort between thirteen Minnesota community and technical colleges to provide e learning for early childhood teachers Multicultural Approaches in Caring for Children, Youth, and Their Families Neil A. organizations and communities Introduction to Early Childhood Education and Care Carole Massing, Mary Lynne Matheson, 2021-07-06 This book sees interculturalism as a process that promotes mutual learning through discussion and dialogue around diverse viewpoints. It presents accepted practice and theory in early learning and care along with cultural perspectives that may challenge or extend them. Educators are encouraged to think deeply about their practice in order to create settings that are truly honouring of difference whether they are differences of race, gender, religion, ability, family structure or socio-economic status. The book draws heavily from the authors' experiences with an intercultural child care centre and includes many stories and photos from that program. It is also informed by the wisdom of two multicultural groups of advisors who have kindly lent their time to the project Child Care and Education Isabel M.
