Multicultural Literary Units:

Multicultural Literature for Children and Young Adults Mingshui Cai,2002-10-30 There is much discussion of multiculturalism in education This is especially true of multicultural literature for children and young adults The rise of multicultural literature is a political rather than a literary movement it is a movement to claim space in literature and in education for historically marginalized social groups rather than one to renovate the craft of literature itself Multicultural literature has been closely bound with the cause of multiculturalism in general and thus has been confronted with resistance from conservatives This book discusses many of the controversial issues surrounding multicultural literature for children and young adults The volume begins with a look at some of the foundational and theoretical issues related to multicultural literature The second part of the book addresses issues related to the creation and critique of multicultural literature including the authorship of such works and the role of the reader in determining whether or not a work is multicultural The third looks at the place of multicultural literature in the education of children and young adults Throughout its discussion the book makes extensive references to a large body of multicultural fiction and provides a thorough review of research on this important topic

Multicultural Literature, Multicultural Teaching James Zarrillo,1994 Multicultural Literature and Literacies Suzanne M. Miller,Barbara McCaskill,1993-10-05 Does literature serve a humanizing function Can it achieve social transformation What roles does literature play for defining self creating community and achieving global perspective This is the first book to thoroughly explore the methods by which educators creative writers and policymakers have constructed workable models of teaching literature in multicultural classrooms The authors provide an interdisciplinary dialogue on the setbacks solutions silences and successes that often occur in classes of multicultural literature They all take the stance that definitions of literacy and literature originate as much outside the classroom as within it With the inclusion of essays by writers themselves a feature provided by no other book on this subject the authors offer a unique vocalization of the nationalistic economic empowering and moral purposes that reading and writing serve The book also includes a current guide to selected resources in multicultural literature in hopes of encouraging and facilitating instructors in the transformation of their own literature courses into multicultural ones

Using Multicultural Literature to Teach K-4 Social Studies Barbara Edwards,J. Allen Queen,2002 Using Multicultural Literature to Teach K 4 Social Studies A Thematic Unit Approach will help elementary teachers creatively integrate multicultural literature with K 4 social studies instruction Using the NCSS themes and grade level relevancy the authors have included an annotated bibliography of over 350 titles organized by cultural group Study units include goals objectives for social studies and literacy introductory activities sequenced lessons and assessment activities Stereotypes to avoid in children s literature are also discussed A reader friendly voice and straightforward organization make this a useful tool for any K 4 teacher Multicultural Literature and Response Lynn Atkinson Smolen,Ruth A. Oswald Ph.D.,2010-12-22 This compelling book emphasizes the critical role of quality multicultural literature and reader response in today's schools and libraries. All students need access to books in which they can see themselves not just their physical appearance but their culture and language as well. Multicultural Literature and Response Affirming Diverse Voices was written to help teachers and librarians find and use the best multicultural books in the service of reading comprehension and more. Underscoring the necessity of selecting quality literature that authentically sensitively and accurately portrays different groups the book defines multicultural literature and provides a strong argument for its importance in schools and libraries. Expert contributors guide users to multicultural authors and illustrators who portray U.S. ethnic and cultural groups and they suggest ways to integrate this literature with writing fluency development, storytelling and audiovisuals. Extensive lists of books and websites that feature multicultural literature as well as of authors, illustrators and publishers of multicultural literature make it easy to include such works in programs across the curriculum.

Multicultural Education Batra P., 2004-01-01     Incorporating Multicultural Young Adult Literature Into Thematic Units in Middle School/high School Classes Carlena Haney, 1993     Teaching Literature - Designing A Short Story Unit Liane Weigel, 2004-06-09 Seminar paper from the year 2003 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Pedagogy Literature Studies grade Good University of Potsdam Institute for Anglistics American Studies course Advanced Seminar Literature in the English language classroom language English abstract The seminar Literature in the English language classroom should familiarize students with a range of contemporary short stories and approaches to using them in the context of a teaching unit on Living in a multicultural society. In this context the basic fact that stories in general meet a basic human need and a plurality of methodological approaches especially for young people in order to understand the other should be achieved was emphasized as the main potential literature in the English language classroom can have. Because of a high scale of creative activities and product oriented procedures in experiencing new perspectives and new ethnicities the short story has a great potential to fulfil this basic need. In order to reveal the potential of Zora Neale Hurston's short story for Living in a multicultural society with respect to teaching the topic of Black Americans in the USA the subtopic of the Harlem Renaissance as the period where Black Americans became famous and the learning goals tasks for the learners as well as the checking of the learning achievements the following parts should provide an insight in my ideas concerning a teaching unit centring on the short story Sweat     Content Area Literacy John E. Readence, Thomas W. Bean, R. Scott Baldwin, 2004     Cultural Journeys Pamela S. Gates, Dianne L. Hall Mark, 2010-08-16 As multicultural education is becoming integral to the core curriculum teachers often implement this aspect into their courses through literature. However standards and criteria to teach and promote active discussion about this literature are sparse. Cultural Journeys introduces pre-service and experienced teachers to the use of literature to promote active discussions that lead students to think about racial diversity. More than just an annotated list of books for children Pamela S. Gates and Dianne L. Hall Mark provide systematic guidelines that teachers can use throughout their careers to evaluate multicultural literature for students in grades K-8. At the same time the text leads the reader to a deeper understanding of how to use multicultural literature throughout the entire curriculum and not just during specially designated months or time periods. With the example unit plans and extensive annotated bibliography this book is a valuable resource that pre-service teachers will utilize when they begin teaching and in-service teachers will reference repeatedly during their planning periods. Literacy for the 21st Century Gail E. Savage, 2000 This brief children's literature text for pre-service teachers emphasizes the love of literature in the belief that literature is not just something children read or study it is something that becomes part of them and stays with them for a lifetime. It contains up to the minute treatments of all genres of children's literature. To help readers discover the joy of children's literature and how to help others share that joy is a major goal of the book. The emphasis is on the affective dimensions of literature geared toward children's aesthetic responses to the stories and poems that they read. Author profiles a multicultural focus topical book lists and a chapter on technology are elements that help students. Each chapter has an essay written by a scholar a classroom teacher or other expert e.g. a middle school student or book editor who has special knowledge a particular perspective or point of view on the chapter topic. Three four color inserts illustrate the children's books discussed in the text.
