Maternal Fictions Stendhal Sand Rachilde And Bataille:

Maternal Fictions Maryline Lukacher, 1994 Stendhal George Sand Rachilde Georges Bataille Forgoing the patronym with its weight of meaning these modern French writers renamed themselves in their work Their use of pseudonyms as Maryline Lukacher demonstrates in this provocative study is part of a process to subvert the name of the father and explore the suppressed relation to the figure of the mother Combining psychoanalytic criticism feminist theory and literary analysis Maternal Fictions offers a complex psychological portrait of these writers who managed at once to challenge patriarchal authority and at the same time attempt to return to the maternal Through readings of Armance Le Rouge et le noir La Vie de Henry Brulard and Les Cenci Lukacher exposes Stendhal's preoccupation with his dead mother who is obsessively retrieved throughout his work George Sand's identity is in effect divided between two mothers her biological mother and her grandmother and in Histoire de ma vie Indiana and Mauprat we see the writer's efforts to break the impasse created by this divided identity In the extraordinary but too little known work of Rachilde Marguerite Eymery Lukacher finds the maternal figure identified as the secret inner force of patriarchal oppression This resistance to feminism continues in the pseudonymous work of Georges Bataille In Ma m re Le coupable and L Exp rience int rieur Lukacher traces Bataille's representation of the mother as a menacing ever subversive figure who threatens basic social configurations Maternal Fictions establishes a new pseudonymous genealogy in modern French writing that will inform and advance our understanding of the act of self creation that occurs in fiction

Birth and Death in Nineteenth-Century French Culture, 2007-01-01 This volume draws contributors from around the globe who represent the full range of approaches to scholarship in nineteenth century French studies historical literary cultural art historical philosophical and comparative The theme of the volume Birth and Death is one with particular resonance for nineteenth century French studies since the nineteenth century is commonly perceived as an age of new life and renovation It is the epoch that witnessed an efflorescence of industrial and artistic progress the birth of the individual and the birth of the novel and the creation of an urban population in the major demographic shift from the rural provinces to Paris At the same time however it is the century of Decadence and degeneration theory marked by a prominent morbid aesthetic in the artistic sphere and a fascination with criminality moral decay and the pathologization of racial and sexual minorities in the scientific discourses It is also the century in which reflection on processes of artistic creation begins to problematize concepts of mimetic representation the function of the author and the status of the text In the context of the dialectical quality of nineteenth century French culture caught between an obsession with the new and innovative and a paranoid sense of its own encroaching decay the twin themes of birth and death open onto a variety of issues literary social historical artistic which are explored interrogated and reassessed in the essays contained in this volume

Tracing Women's Romanticism Kari E. Lokke, 2004-09-09 Awarded the 2005 Jean Pierre Barricelli Book Prize by the International Conference on Romanticism This book explores a cosmopolitan tradition of nineteenth century novels written in response to Germaine de Staël's original novel of the artist as heroine Corinne. The first book to delineate the contours of an international women's Romanticism, it argues that the Künstlerromane of Mary Shelley, Bettine von Arnim and George Sand offer feminist understandings of history and transcendence that constitute a critique of Romanticism from within. The book examines meditative, mystical and utopian visions of religious and artistic transcendence in the novels of women Romanticists as vehicles for the representation of a gendered subjectivity that seeks detachment and distance from the interests and strictures of the existing patriarchal social and cultural order. For these writers, the author argues, self-transcendence means an abandonment or dissolution of the individual self through political and spiritual efforts that culminate in a revelation of the divinity of a collective selfhood that comes into being through historical process.

Nineteenth-century French Studies, 1994 Men of Their Words Nigel Harkness, 2017-12-02 Whereas the centrality of femininity to nineteenth century French fiction has been the focus of widespread critical attention, masculinity has until recently received little sustained treatment in either the literary or socio-historical domains. In this book, Nigel Harkness uses the fiction of George Sand (1804-1876), the pre-eminent woman writer of the period, to explore questions of masculinity as they pertain to the nineteenth century French novel and to map out new approaches to the study of literary masculinity. Drawing on contemporary theories of gender and narrative, Harkness reveals how Sand's novels repeatedly focus on a nexus of language, masculinity and power in which narrative is both a vehicle for the expression of manhood and a site where masculinity is discursively performed. Masculinity is thus reconfigured in Sand's fiction as an identity constituted as much through words as through actions. Analysis of the performances of masculinity staged in Sand's novels opens onto an exploration of gendered processes of literary representation, the links between masculinity and the doxa, the equation of writing and power, the homosocial function of acts of narration and the masculinity of authorship and authority.

Subversive Subjects Judith Holland Sarnecki, Ingeborg Majer O'Sickey, 2004 Subversive Subjects: Reading Marguerite Yourcenar is the first collection of articles in English to deal with many of this very private author's best known works. Its contributors make use of a variety of literary theories to probe the complex ambiguities at the heart of Yourcenar's writings. Each contributor ventures beyond traditional readings of Yourcenar's complex texts, pushing against the boundaries of interpretation that the Belgian-born writer carefully established. Many of the essays read like a mystery; hence they follow Yourcenar's call for rigorous explications du texte as they probe her complex oeuvre. Judith Holland Sarnecki is Associate Professor of French at Lawrence University. Ingeborg Majer O'Sickey is Associate Professor of German and Women's Studies at the State University of New York Binghamton.

Ovid in French Helena Taylor, Fiona Cox, 2023-07-04 This collection of essays examines the ways Ovid's diverse oeuvre has been translated, rewritten, adapted and responded to by a range of French and Francophone women from the Renaissance to the present. It aims to reveal lesser-known voices in Ovidian reception studies and to offer a wider historical perspective on the complex question of Ovid and gender. Ranging from Renaissance poetry to contemporary creative criticism it charts an understudied strand of reception studies emphasizing how a longer view allows us to explore and challenge the notion of a female tradition of Ovidian reception The range of genres analysed here poetry verse and prose translation theatre epistolary fiction autofiction autobiography film creative critique and novels also reflect the diversity of the Ovidian texts in reception from the Heroides to the Metamorphoses from the Amores to the Ars Amatoria from the Tristia to the Fasti The study brings an array of critical approaches to bear on well known authors such as George Sand Julia Kristeva and Marguerite Yourcenar as well as less known figures from contemporary writer Linda L to the early modern Catherine and Madeline Des Roches exploring exile identity queerness displacement voice expectations of modesty the poetics of translation and the problems posed by Ovid's eroticized violence to name just some of the volume's rich themes The epilogue by translator and novelist Marie Cosnay points towards new eco critical and creative directions in Ovidian scholarship and reception Students and scholars of French Studies Classics Comparative Literature and Translation Studies will find much to interest them in this diverse collection of essays

Georges Bataille Joan Nordquist, 1994 Rachilde Diana Holmes, 2001-01-12 Her extraordinary life and work including a vast output as a literary reviewer offer a prism through which to view the vibrant social and cultural history of France from the belle époque to the Second World War The first serious critical study of Rachilde's work this book explores the interwoven themes of French naturalism modernism decadence and feminism Jacket

Romance Languages Annual, 1996 Feminists Between Theory and Practice Mariarosa Mettifofo, 2005 Madame La Mort and Other Plays Rachilde, 1998 Rachilde was the pseudonym of Marguerite Eymery Vallette 1860-1953 a woman of powerful personality who made her place at the very center of the Symbolist movement in fin de siècle France Though relatively unknown in America Rachilde had a significant influence on the course of French and Western literature and theater She was a pioneer of antirealist drama and the first to use the term absurd to characterize the new kind of theater that would be a pretext for a dream Rachilde's sexual politics and sardonic humor make her plays more interesting and more performable today than many of those of her more famous contemporaries Where male Symbolists were obsessed with death Rachilde explores the fearful thrill of sexuality Topical challenging and all but lost to contemporary audiences her extraordinary work offers the shock of relevance and freshness of discovery     Nineteenth-century Literature Criticism Laurie Lanzen Harris,1981 Excerpts from criticism of the works of novelists poets playwrights short story writers and other creative writers who lived between 1800 and 1900 from the first published critical appraisals to current evaluations     Female Pygmalion Figures in French Literature Vicki Lee DeVries,2006     Materialist Feminism Toril Moi,Janice A. Radway,1994 Materialist feminism is not an unproblematic term Its relationship to what was called socialist feminism in the 1970s and early 1980s is far from clear This special issue of SAQ does not resolve these questions Instead of providing a theory of materialist feminism in the abstract the authors have tried to build up a provisional tentative picture of what a materialist feminism might look like in the 1990s     Choice ,1995
