New Turkish:

Women and Turkish Cinema Eylem Atakav, 2013 Since 2000 there has been a considerable effort in Turkish cinema to come to terms with the military's intervention in politics and subsequent national trauma. It has resulted in an outpouring of cinematic texts. This book focuses on women and Turkish cinema in the context of gender politics, cultural identity and representation. The central proposition of this book is that enforced depoliticisation introduced after the coup is responsible for uniting feminism and film in 1980s Turkey. The feminist movement was able to flourish precisely because it was not perceived as political or politically significant. In a parallel move in the films of the 1980s there was an increased tendency to focus on the individual woman's issues and lives in order to avoid the overtly political. Women and Turkish Cinema provides a comprehensive view of cinema's approach to women in a country which straddles European and Middle Eastern cultural conceptions, identities and religious values and will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars of Film Studies, Gender Studies and Middle East Studies amongst others.

Dönmez-Colin,2008-11-15 Films often act as a prism that refracts the issues facing a nation and Turkish cinema in particular serves to encapsulate the cultural and social turmoil of modern day Turkey Acclaimed film scholar G n l D nmez Colin examines here the way that national cinema reveals the Turkish quest for a modern identity Marked by continually shifting ethnic demographics politics and geographic borders Turkish society struggles to reconcile modern attitudes with traditional morals and centuries old customs D nmez Colin examines how contemporary Turkish filmmakers address this struggle in their cinematic works positing that their films revolve around ideas of migration and exile and give voice to previously subsumed denied identities such as that of the Kurds Turkish Cinema also crucially examines how these films confront taboo subjects such as homosexuality incest and honor killings issues that have only become viable subjects of discussion in the POLICY aims to shed light on changes in migration policy determinants beneath these changes and practical implications for warrants policy adjustments and reviews Policy shift from exporting excess labour in the 1960s and 1970s to immigrant integration today is a drastic but necessary one Nevertheless Turkish migration policy is still far from settled as several chapters in this book point out Despite the exemplary humanitarian engagement in admitting Syrians Turkey is still at the bottom of the league table of favourable integration policies with an overall score of 25 out of 100 Turkish migration policy is likely to be adjusted further in response to the continuing immigration Contents Foreword by Philip L Martin Introduction

Seventy-five Years of the Turkish Republic Sylvia Kedourie, 2000 This collection examines the issues which over the first 75 years of the Turkish Republic have shaped and will continue to influence Turkey's foreign and domestic policy the legacy of the Ottoman empire the concept of citizenship secular democracy Islamism and civil military relations The Problematic Structure of Management of Co-Owned Properties in Turkish Law and Pursuance of Solutions Eylem Apaydin, 2011-01-18 This book provides a critical evaluation of the statutory framework for co ownership regulations in Turkish law and it acquaints Turkish jurists with the existence of trust of land in English law It is posited upon the argument that solutions to the problems observed in the administration and enjoyment of co owned properties in Turkish law may be overcome by the introduction of a new institution which is inspired by the trust mechanism in English law This renders the existing Turkish regulation for the management of the co owned properties outdated unreasonably complex and extremely artificial with some assumptions After successfully establishing that the Turkish system is currently inadequate to provide an efficient system this book provides the indications for a solution Being aware of the limitations of the Turkish legal system and the restricted possibility of the direct reception of trust this book examines to what extent the current institutions in Turkish law would replace the functions of trust in the context of co ownership This examination results in searching for a new system as it is concluded that any of the trust like devices in the current Turkish law could not effectively and comprehensively serve the purposes that the English trust does Therefore this book suggests that a new mechanism inspired by the English trust of land would provide the required mechanisms for an efficient managerial system for co owned properties Rather than asserting to solely focus on a comprehensive new system this book discusses the possible solutions and urges further research about the matter Hence the so called alien system trust of land and its capability to provide an alternative but efficient and productive solution to the managerial problems of the co owned properties would be made familiar with the Turkish jurists Asia, 1929 The Living Age, 1912 4 vols. of magazine articles and pamphlets by A.C.
