1. Leviathan (1651) is a political treatise by Thomas Hobbes. It discusses the nature of human life in a state of nature and the reasons for forming a civil society. Hobbes argues that in the state of nature, life is "solitary, poor, nasty, brutish, and short." He believes that the only way to ensure peace and order is through a central authority that has absolute power over all individuals. He also discusses the concept of a "social contract" where individuals give up their natural rights to the state in exchange for protection and security.

2. Discourse on the Method of Rightly Conducting One's Reason (1637) is a philosophical work by René Descartes. It is a defense of rationalism and a method for achieving certainty. Descartes argues that the only way to know something with certainty is through reason. He uses a method of doubt to show that sensory perception is unreliable and that one can only trust their own reason. He also discusses the concept of "method" as a way to organize knowledge and to achieve clarity and precision in one's thoughts.

3. Principia Mathematica (1687) is a mathematical work by Isaac Newton. It is a treatise on the laws of motion and gravitation. Newton uses a mathematical approach to explain the motion of objects and the behavior of the universe. He develops a system of mechanics based on the principles of motion, force, and energy. He also introduces the concept of "universal gravitation" and shows how it can be used to explain the motion of planets and other celestial bodies.

4. On the Earth's Motion (1616) is a work by Galileo Galilei. It is a defense of the heliocentric model of the universe. Galileo argues that the sun is the center of the universe and that the planets revolve around it. He uses observational data and mathematical calculations to support his claims. He also discusses the concept of "relativity" and how it applies to the motion of objects in the universe.

5. On the Structure of Atoms of Matter (1660) is a work by Robert Boyle. It is a philosophical work that explores the nature of matter. Boyle argues that matter is composed of small, indivisible particles called atoms. He also discusses the concept of "vacuum" and how it can exist in the universe. Boyle's work laid the foundation for modern atomic theory and helped to establish the scientific method as a way to study the natural world.

Paul and the Creation of Christian Identity William S. Campbell,2008-06-03 An examination of how the church eventually became a gentile movement exploring how this was as the result of various historical social and cultural factors in which the earliest vision of diversity within the church was lost contrary to Paul's vision in which subgroup identities of Jew and gentile in Christ were recognized

Personal Identity Ellen Frankel Paul,Fred Dycus Miller,Jeffrey Paul,2005 What is a person What makes me the same person today that I was yesterday or will be tomorrow Philosophers have long pondered these questions In Plato's Symposium Socrates observed that all of us are constantly undergoing change we experience physical changes to our bodies as well as changes in our manners customs opinions desires pleasures pains and fears

Aristotle theorized that there must be some underlying substratum that remains the same even as we undergo these changes

John Locke rejected Aristotle's view and reformulated the problem of personal identity in his own way is a person a physical organism that persists through time or is a person identified by the persistence of psychological states by memory These essays written by prominent philosophers and legal and economic theorists offer valuable insights into the nature of personal identity and its implications for morality and public policy

Identity Kean R. Jones,2022-08-01 When you look in the mirror and begin examining the concept of the image that is being portrayed back at you what do you see This question is one that perhaps everyone encounters in life The difference is some look at the image and submit to it others look at the image and become depressed by it while few look at the image and say to themselves I've got to do some reconstruction because this is not who I see myself to be No matter which category you are in I declare to you that there is help for you and despite what people may have told you this help is closer than you think The truth of the matter is that we all have these preconceived images of who it is that we would like to be but many times they get clouded or misconstrued as life goes on How People are the primary factor They speak things about you that are not true they speak things over you of which they have no clue or they speak things to you which impacts what you do Then there are life's obstacles that weigh in attempting to weigh you down as a means of preventing you from becoming who you were created to be Through it all ask yourself these two questions Are you ready to change the course of your life Are you ready to be the best you that God created you to be If so join Kean R Jones as he provides the foundation and framework of how to Discover Your True Identity More than just a book it's an adventure that will challenge your current mindset while encouraging you to embrace your pre ordained pre destined and God given Identity Let's ride

Beautiful Identity Addie Begashaw,2019-09-17 Our spiritual life connects us with the invisible world so we can draw the truth and create a satisfying visible world Most spiritual and non spiritual women alike are perplexed deceived and shortchanged from what they can be do or have In this state of deception wrong feels right and that is why Beautiful Identity looks to the Bible to bring clarity to who we are and how we can do the work we were born to do Could this be the missing link to your best life

Personal Identity Georg Gasser,Matthias

Stefan,2012-11-15 We take it for granted that a person persists over time when we make plans we assume that we will carry them out when we punish someone for a crime we assume that she is the same person as the one who committed it Metaphysical questions underlying these assumptions point towards an area of deep existential and philosophical interest In this volume leading metaphysicians discuss key questions about personal identity including What are we How do we persist and Which conditions guarantee our identity over time They discuss whether personal identity is complex whereby it is analyzable in terms of simpler relations such as physical or psychological features or whether it is simple namely something that cannot be analyzed in terms of more fundamental relations Their essays offer an innovative discussion of this topic and will be of interest to a wide readership in metaphysics   The Self and Nature De Witt Henry Parker,1917   Identity, Old(er) Age and Migrancy Laura Machat-From,2017-05-16

Identity research in relation to ethnicity and migration has tended to focus on younger people whilst identity research in relation to ageing and old er age has not focused on migrants This inadvertent mutual neglect has led to a lack of identity research that examines the identity categories of old er age and migrancy together a lacuna that this dissertation aims to redress This dissertation departs from a social constructionist understanding of identity as situationally accomplished in the interplay between how one defines oneself internally and how others define one externally The questions raised by this perspective and addressed in this dissertation are When in what situations and in relation to whom do old er age and migrancy respectively seem to become meaningful for identification How do the identity categories of old er age and migrancy seem to be negotiated The empirical material consists of in depth interviews with 24 older migrants 13 men 11 women aged between 55 and 79 who have been living in Sweden for 18 to 61 years Interviewees come from 12 different countries that vary in perceived cultural distance from Sweden The findings suggest that identifications with old er age and migrancy seem to be dynamic and flexible rather than necessarily permanently meaningful thus gaining meaning in specific situations and in relation to particular Others External definitions furthermore do not always seem to match with internal ones Regardless of how old er age and migrancy are constructed they seem to be negotiable This dissertation thus contributes to identity research by studying old er age and migrancy together and furthermore sheds light onto how the social constructionist lens allows us to see variability where stability otherwise would be presumed Identitetsforskning r rande etnicitet och migration har huvudsakligen fokuserat p yngre medan identitetsforskning kring ldre och ldrande inte har fokuserat p utrikesf dda Som en konsekvens d rav har identitetsforskningen inte studerat h g re lder och invandrarskap tillsammans en lucka som denna avhandling avser att fylla Avhandlingen utg r ifr n en socialkonstruktionistisk f rst else av identitet som situationsbunden och formad genom samspelet mellan hur man definierar sig sj lv internt och hur andra definierar en externt Fr gorna som v cks genom detta perspektiv och som avhandlingen fokuserar p r N r i vilka situationer och i f rh llande till vem verkar h g re lder respektive invandrarskap bli betydelsefulla f r identifikationer Hur verkar identitetskategorierna h g re lder och invandrarskap f rhandlas Det empiriska materialet består av djupintervjuer med 24 utrikesfödda män 13 och 11 kvinnor i åldrarna mellan 55 och 79 som har bott i Sverige mellan 18 och 61 år. Intervjupersonerna kommer från 12 olika länder med olika upplevt kulturellt avstånd från Sverige. Resultaten tyder på att identifikationer med hängsler och invandrarskap är dynamiska och flexibla snarare än endrigtvis permanent meningsfulla och fördrömd med betydelse i vissa situationer och i förhållande till särskilda andra. Externa definitioner verkar inte alltid stömma verens med interna definitioner. Oavsett hur hängsler och invandrarskap är konstruerade så framstår de som erfahrlösbara. Avhandlingen bidrar därmed till identitetsforskningen genom att studera hängsler och invandrarskap tillsammans och belyser dessutom hur det socialkonstruktionistiska perspektivet tilltalar oss att se variation och föränderlighet där stabilitet annars fruts. ELT in Asia in the Digital Era: Global Citizenship and Identity

Suwarsih, Madya, Fuad Hamied, Willy A. Renandya, Christine Coombe, Yazid Basthom, 2018-06-27. This proceedings book captures a wide range of timely themes for readers to be able to foresee the digital era's impact on English teaching in non English speaking countries. English used in the global environment, the frequent mobile communication and the use of AI based translators are bringing about dramatic changes in our English language learning and teaching. Who can provide us the wisdom to know what to do? Those scholars going through these complex environmental changes. A collection of puzzle pieces may bring us a better contour for the future than a perfectly edited book. It's indeed a pleasure reading these insightful pieces to gain wisdom for the future of ELT practices in global contexts. Charged with the Glory of God Caroline Batchelder, 2023-07-26. Isaiah's servant songs reveal a true and better Adam. In Charged with the Glory of God Caroline Batchelder provides a synchronic theological and canonical reading of the four Servant Songs in Isaiah 42:1-9, 49:1-13, 50:3-11, 52:13-53:12 showing how they relate to one another and the message of the prophetic book. Reading Isaiah as a compositional unity in conversation with other texts such as Genesis results in a coherent presentation of the mysterious servant. The polemic against idolatry reveals rebellious Israel to be false imagers of God. In contrast, Isaiah's servant is an ideal embodiment of Yahweh's image and likeness. Thus the servant is a paradigm for those who wish to recapture and realize God's good creation purposes for all humanity. The servant poems are not only a call to reorient oneself as a servant towards God and his creation but also a map and means for doing so. In this study Batchelder offers fresh insights from Isaiah for understanding God's true image and its idolatrous counterfeits. Cities' Identity Through Architecture and Arts Anna Catalani, Zeinab Nour, Antonella Versaci, Dean Hawkes, Hocine Bougdah, Adolf Sotoca, Mahmoud Ghoneem, Ferdinando Trapani, 2018-05-01.
