New Trends In Employment Practices An International Survey:

New Trends in Employment Practices Walter Galenson,1991     Demanding Work Francis Green,2013-10-24 Since the early 1980s a vast number of jobs have been created in the affluent economies of the industrialized world Many workers are doing more skilled and fulfilling jobs and getting paid more for their trouble Yet it is often alleged that the quality of work life has deteriorated with a substantial and rising proportion of jobs providing low wages and little security or requiring unusually hard and stressful effort In this unique and authoritative formal account of changing job quality economist Francis Green highlights contrasting trends using quantitative indicators drawn from public opinion surveys and administrative data In most affluent countries average pay levels have risen along with economic growth a major exception being the United States Skill requirements have increased potentially meaning a more fulfilling time at work Set against these beneficial trends however are increases in inequality a strong intensification of work effort diminished job satisfaction and less employee influence over daily work tasks Using an interdisciplinary approach Demanding Work shows how aspects of job quality are related and how changes in the quality of work life stem from technological change and transformations in the politico economic environment The book concludes by discussing what individuals firms unions and governments can do to counter declining job quality

Managing Knowledge Steven Albert,Keith Bradley,1997-10-02 Managing Knowledge reverses the status quo argument that organisational change is driven by the specific demands of large companies Instead of viewing firms as the catalysts for gradual change Albert and Bradley argue that expert professionals have fuelled a break away from the traditional organisational structure to an organisational structure at the heart of which is an agent and or an agency system The authors draw our attention to the growing phenomenon of atypical work manifested in workforce flexibility mobility the feminisation of professional employment and technological changes They focus upon a group of knowledge based employees experts who increasingly have influence over work and wealth creation Case studies are developed from companies including AT and T the Hollywood film industry London accounting firms and specialised agencies such as Labforce and Knowledge Net
