the nature of Beckett studies for the next generation Pastoral, Identity, and Memory in the Works of John Banville Alexander G.Z. Myers,2018-08-27 John Banville's works waver indecisively between modernism and postmodernism. This study offers a hitherto unexplored vista on his works and argues that Banville is a post modern pastoralist. The pastoral lens opens new vistas to Banville's central concerns: the collusion of ethics and aesthetics, self identification in narrative and the topography of the troubled mind. Banville's characters harbour an Arcadia of the unconscious conditioned by a subtext of nostalgia. Caught in a crisis his characters explore, subvert and transform the pastoral mode into an ambiguous quest for a stable self. Samuel Beckett in Context Anthony Uhlmann,2013-02-28 Provides a comprehensive exploration of Beckett's historical, cultural and philosophical contexts, offering new critical insights for scholars and general readers. Facing the Other Borbála Faragó, Moynagh Sullivan, 2008-12-18 This collection offers a multi-faceted investigation of the critical issue of the creation and place of the Other in Ireland. The extraordinarily rapid recent economic development of Ireland has effected a profound transformation in the island's social and cultural life. In the process old verities and assumptions concerning the nature of Irish society and culture have been called into question with a whole variety of new challenges coming to light. The developments of the last two decades have transformed questions of what and who constitutes the Other within Irish society, but in the process older societal faultlines based on gender, disability and religious difference have not disappeared and historical processes of Othering continue to play a critical role in influencing and moulding the social contours of the new Ireland of the twenty-first century. Drawing on a number of different disciplinary perspectives, this collection presents a number of key analyses of social and cultural practices and policies that reflect anxieties about and negotiations of these changes, examining historical and contemporary representation of fears about the porousness of national borders, the increasing racialization of the Irish state through social and juridical proscriptions and the popular and official narrative of progress. Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine Paul Sharrad, 2019-08-30 Booker Prize winner and Living National Treasure Thomas Keneally still divides critical opinion: he is both a morally challenging stylist and a commercial hack, a wise commentator on society and a garrulous leprechaun. Such judgements are located in the cultural politics of Australia but also linked to ideas about what a literary career should look like. Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine charts Keneally's production and reception across his three major markets, noting clashes between national interests and international reach, continuity of themes and variety of topics, settings and genres, the writer's interests and the publishers' push to create a brand, celebrity, fame and literary reputation, and the tussle around fiction, history, allegory and the middlebrow. Keneally is seen as playing a long game across several events rather than honing one specialist skill, a strategy that has sustained for more than 50 years his ambition to earn a living from writing. Shaping an Irish Dream Jeffrey Baggett, 2007 Forgetful Remembrance Guy Beiner, 2018-11-09 Forgetful Remembrance examines the paradoxes of what actually happens when communities persistently endeavour to forget inconvenient events. The question of how a society attempts to obscure problematic historical episodes is addressed through a detailed case study grounded in the north eastern counties of the Irish province of Ulster where loyalist and unionist Protestants and in particular Presbyterians repeatedly tried to repress over two centuries discomfiting recollections of participation alongside Catholics in a republican rebellion in 1798 By exploring a rich variety of sources Beiner makes it possible to closely follow the dynamics of social forgetting His particular focus on vernacular historiography rarely noted in official histories reveals the tensions between professed oblivion in public and more subtle rituals of remembrance that facilitated muted traditions of forgetful remembrance which were masked by a local culture of reticence and silencing Throughout Forgetful Remembrance comparative references demonstrate the wider relevance of the study of social forgetting in Northern Ireland to numerous other cases where troublesome memories have been concealed behind a veil of supposed oblivion Out of the Earth Christine Cusick,2010

"Celebrating Confusion" Kenneth Nally,2009 Though widely lauded as one of the most creative and challenging forces in Irish theatre Frank McGuinness TM s plays have often met with a tempestuous reception This new work details the significance of key productions of his plays in the context of Ireland TM s culture and society Charting McGuinness TM s development as a dramatist from The Factory Girls through to Gates of Gold it combines cultural political and theatrical analysis to position McGuinness as the most significant Irish playwright of his generation Textual analysis supports considerations of theatrical performance to show how visual art stagecraft sculpture and song are central to our understanding of McGuinness TM s theatre Drawing forth the range of sexual familial and national identities found in McGuinness TM s work this book shows the significance of symbols in theatre that often seeks to confuse the simplicities of absolutes in order to show the complexities of difference Wide ranging theoretically astute and written in a lucid and engaging style Celebrating Confusion will appeal to all readers who are interested in Irish Theatre and its intersection with the politics and culture of contemporary Ireland Dictionary of Munster Women Writers 1800-2000 Tina

O'Toole,2005 This dictionary will make an important contribution the knowledge of writing in Munster in both Irish and English over the past 200 years The dictionary has entries on 560 writers including 220 in Irish Each entry contains a bibliographical note a list of key references and a bibliography where applicable advances literary and cultural as distinct from primarily historical research on the region of Munster over the last two centuries enables a new view as a whole of the work of women writers juxtaposes the work of Irish English language and bilingual writers and thereby helps to develop an understanding of the province of Munster as a diverse cultural milieu and focus on the role of regionality in the process of cultural creation The Munster Women Writers Project based in the English Department at University College Cork was a recovery project aiming to make available the basic materials for biographical and literary research and analysis on the extensive number of women writers with Munster backgrounds or strong Munster connections in the period 1800 2000 The objective was to make more information on these writers available for future literary historians feminist critics and social historians to develop knowledge and understanding of this material By making available the basic materials for scholarly research in this field the project aims to help generate critical analysis of the role of regional class and gender factors in the formation of writers and the intersection of these factors in the nature of the work produced Deconstructing Ireland Colin Graham,2001 Using a Derridean deconstruction approach this book examines the course by which the history of modernity and colonialism has constructed an idea of Ireland produced more often as a citation than an actuality Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation American Book Publishing Record ,2002 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2006 Studies in Children's Literature, 1500-2000 Celia Keenan,Mary Shine Thompson,2004 Ranging from the fundamental question whether a children s literature is possible or what its formal and contextual parameters might be to the exigent issues of contemporary cultural studies this essay collection inserts children s literature into literary theoretical and historical debate
