Vinayak Bharne

New Old Damascus:

A New Old Damascus Christa Salamandra, 2004-12-10 Filled with rare encounters with Syria's oldest most elite families Critics of anthropology's taste for exoticism and marginality will savor this study of upper class Damascus a world that is urbane and cosmopolitan yet in many ways as remote as the settings in which the best ethnography has traditionally been done Written with a nuanced appreciation of the cultural forms in question and how Damascenes themselves think talk about and create them Andrew Shryock In contemporary urban Syria debates about the representation preservation and restoration of the Old City of Damascus have become part of status competition and identity construction among the city's elite In theme restaurants and nightclubs that play on images of Syrian tradition in television programs nostalgic literature and visual art and in the rhetoric of historic preservation groups the idea of the Old City has become a commodity for the consumption of tourists and most important of new and old segments of the Syrian upper class In this lively ethnographic study Christa Salamandra argues that in deploying and debating such representations Syrians dispute the past and criticize the present Indiana Series in Middle East Studies Mark Tessler general editor The Emerging Asian City Vinayak Bharne, 2013 Asian cities create concomitant imagery polarizations of poverty and wealth blurry lines between formality and informality and stark juxtapositions of ancient historic places with shimmering new skylines With Asia's re emergence on the global stage there is an acute focus on its multifarious urban issues and identities What are Asian cities going to become Will they surpass the economic and environmental debacles of the West This collection of twenty four essays surveys the most dominant issues shaping the Asian urban landscape today It offers scholarly reflections and positions on the forces shaping Asian cities and the forces that they in turn are shaping The Politics of Love Rebecca Joubin, 2013-10-03 Dramatic miniseries are the primary arena for the expression of postcolonial Syrian culture and artistic talent an arena that unites diverse aspects of artisanship in a struggle over visions of the past present and future of the nation As the tour de force of the television medium blossoming amidst persisting authoritarianism these miniseries serve as a crucial and complex artistic avenue through which political and social opposition manifests Scholars have tried to come to terms with a highly critical culture produced within attempted state co optation and argue that politically critical culture operates as a safety valve to release frustrations so that dissenters are less likely to mobilize against the government Through research fueled by a viewing of over two hundred and fifty miniseries ranging from the 1960s to the present as well as an examination of hundreds of press reports Facebook pages and extensive interviews with drama creators this book turns away from the dominant paradigm that focuses on regime intent When turning attention instead to the drama creators themselves we witness the polyphony of voices employing love and marriage metaphors and gender de constructions to explore larger issues of nationalism self identity and political critique At the heart of constructions of femininity are the complications that arise with the symbiosis of pure femininity with authentic national identity Deconstructing masculinity as political critique has been less complicated since it is not implicated in Western identity issues on the contrary illustrations of subservient masculinity serve to subtly denounce government corruption and oppression Miniseries from the 1960s demonstrate that the focus of the qabaday tough man on female sexuality comes from his own political alienation vis vis the state and is part of a vicious cycle of state violence vis vis the citizen In recent years and in particular after the uprising we can see the emerging definition of the true qabaday as one who does not suppress a woman s sexuality thereby allowing for full equality in relationships as the basis of a truly free society
