Our Favorite Things:

Many Ways to Learn Sharon Roop, Kristen Watson, Kelly Caldwell, 2001 Ten theme based units suggest creative activities based on the theory of multiple intelligences. The monthly themes kick off the school year with my favorites favorite books, people, colors, etc. then move on to apples and pumpkins, harvest stories about runaways, hot soup for January, authors, weather for March, ecology and careers, closing out the year with a June unit on friendship. Units offer key questions, a framework addressing each of eight learning styles, a one week sample lesson plan, lists of related children's literature and reproducible handouts to ease implementation. Grades K-2 Bibliography: Illustrated Good Year Books 164 pages Intents and Purposes Eric Lewis, 2019-03-29 How do we define improvised music? What is the relationship of highly improvised performances to the work they are performances of? How do we decide what are the important parts of an improvised musical work? In Intents and Purposes, Eric Lewis uses a series of case studies to challenge assumptions about what defines a musical work and musical performance, seeking to go beyond philosophical and aesthetic templates from Western classical music to foreground the distinctive practices and aesthetics of jazz. Pushing aside the assumption that composition and improvisation are different or even opposed musical practices, Lewis's philosophically informed approach revisits key topics in musical ontology such as how to define the triangle of composer, performer, listener, and the status of live performances in relation to scores and recordings. Drawing on critical race theory, feminist theory, new musicology, sociology, cognitive science, and genre theory, Lewis opens up new questions about agency in performance as well as new ways of considering the historical relationships between improvisational practices with roots in different cultural frameworks. By showing how jazz can be both art idea and action all at the same time, Lewis offers a new way of seeing any improvised musical performance in a new culturally and aesthetically rich context.

Moral Tribes Joshua Greene, 2014-12-30 Surprising and remarkable. Toggling between big ideas, technical details, and his personal intellectual journey, Greene writes a thesis suitable to both airplane reading and PhD seminars. The Boston Globe: Our brains were designed for tribal life, for getting along with a select group of others Us and for fighting off everyone else Them. But modern times have forced the world's tribes into a shared space, resulting in epic clashes of values along with unprecedented opportunities. As the world shrinks, the moral lines that divide us become more salient and more puzzling. We fight over everything from tax codes to gay marriage to global warming and we wonder where, if at all, we can find our common ground. A grand synthesis of neuroscience, psychology, and philosophy, Moral Tribes reveals the underlying causes of modern conflict and lights the way forward. Greene compares the human brain to a dual mode camera with point and shoot, automatic settings, portrait, landscape, as well as a manual mode. Our point and shoot settings are our emotions, efficient automated programs honed by evolution, culture, and personal experience. The brain's manual mode is its capacity for deliberate reasoning, which makes our thinking flexible. Point and shoot emotions make us social animals turning Me into Us. But they also make us tribal animals turning Us against Them. Our tribal emotions make us fight sometimes with bombs sometimes with words often with life and death stakes A major achievement from a rising star in a new scientific field Moral Tribes will refashion your deepest beliefs about how moral thinking works and how it can work better Billboard ,2001-11-10 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends My Favorite Book-shelf Charles Josselyn,1903
