Building the Black Arts Movement Jonathan Fenderson, 2019-03-30 As both an activist and the dynamic editor of Negro Digest Hoyt W Fuller stood at the nexus of the Black Arts Movement and the broader black cultural politics of his time Jonathan Fenderson uses historical snapshots of Fuller's life and achievements to rethink the period and establish Fuller's important role in laying the foundation for the movement In telling Fuller's story Fenderson provides provocative new insights into the movement's international dimensions the ways the movement took shape at the local level the impact of race and other factors and the challenges corporate political and personal that Fuller and others faced in trying to build black institutions An innovative study that approaches the movement from a historical perspective Building the Black Arts Movement is a much needed reassessment of the trajectory of African American culture over two explosive decades

American Literary Criticism Since the 1930s Vincent B. Leitch, 2009-09-10 American Literary Criticism Since the 1930s fully updates Vincent B Leitch's classic book American Literary Criticism from the 30s to the 80s following the development of the American academy right up to the present day Updated throughout and with a brand new chapter this second edition provides a critical history of American literary theory and practice discussing the impact of major schools and movements examines the social and cultural background to literary research considering the role of key theories and practices provides profiles of major figures and influential texts outlining the connections among theorists presents a new chapter on developments since the 1980s including discussions of feminist queer postcolonial and ethnic criticism Comprehensive and engaging this book offers a crucial overview of the development of literary studies in American universities and a springboard to further research for all those interested in the development and study of Literature

English Literature and the Other Languages, 2022-06-08 The thirty essays in English Literature and the Other Languages trace how the tangentiality of English and other modes of language affects the production of English literature and investigate how questions of linguistic code can be made accessible to literary analysis This collection studies multilingualism from the Reformation onwards when Latin was an alternative to the emerging vernacular of the Anglican nation the eighteenth century confrontation between English and the languages of the colonies the process whereby the standard British English of the colonizer has lost ground to independent englishes American Canadian Indian Caribbean Nigerian or New Zealand English that now consider the original standard British English as the other languages the interaction between English and a range of British language varieties including Welsh Irish and Scots the Lancashire and Dorset dialects as well as working class idiom Chicano literature translation and self translation Ezra Pound's revitalization of English in the Cantos and the psychogrammar and comic dialogics in Joyce's Ulysses As Norman Blake puts it in his Afterword to English

Literature and the Other Languages There has been no volume such as this which tries to take stock of the whole area and to put multilingualism in literature on the map It is a subject which has been neglected for too long and this volume is to be welcomed for its brave attempt to fill this lacuna Spanish as a Heritage Language in the United States Sara M.

Beaudrie,Marta Fairclough,2012-11-13 There is growing interest in heritage language learners individuals who have a personal or familial connection to a nonmajority language Spanish learners represent the largest segment of this population in the United States In this comprehensive volume experts offer an interdisciplinary overview of research on Spanish as a heritage language in the United States They also address the central role of education within the field Contributors offer a wealth of resources for teachers while proposing future directions for scholarship Movements in Chicano Poetry

Rafael Pèrez-Torres,1995-01-27 Studies the central concerns addressed by recent Chicano poetry A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research Bonnie Klomp Stevens,Larry L. Stewart,1996 Like the first two editions of A Guide to Literary Criticism and Research this edition is based both on a recognition of a practical need felt in many literature courses and a view of literary study It attempts to meet the practical need by offering upper level students a condensed but adequate guide to the range of modern criticism and to basic methods of research In addition it is a hope that the book will give students a more comprehensive view of literary study by helping them to recognize criticism and research as two closely linked parts of a single process Folk Roots and Mythic Wings in Sarah Orne Jewett and Toni Morrison Marilyn Sanders

Mobley,1994-08-01 As women of different eras cultural backgrounds racial identities and places of origin Sarah Orne Jewett and Toni Morrison would appear to have little in common But in her study of these two seemingly dissimilar writers Marilyn Sanders Mobley finds elements that unite their fictional concerns Mobley argues that a folk aesthetic gives structure and meaning to Jewett s and Morrison s work and that a mythic impulse informs their ability to depict people and values that the dominant American culture has traditionally neglected Through close readings of Jewett s Deephaven A White Heron and The Country of Pointed Firs and of Morrison s Song of Solomon Tar Baby and Beloved she demonstrates that the fiction of both writers attempts to preserve and affirm cultural difference cultural knowledge and cultural memory Mobley s carefully argued study simultaneously offers important new insights into the works of two significant women writers and points out ways in which narrative may be used as a catalyst for cultural and social change The Use of Chicano Literature in

University and College Spanish-language Courses in the Southwestern United States Elia Mar Díaz-Ortiz,1988
