Business Rule-Oriented Conceptual Modeling Holger Herbst, 2012-12-06 This book is based on a PhD dissertation which was accepted by the faculty of Law and Economics at the University of Bern Switzerland The ideas presented were partially developed in a research project founded by the Swiss National Science Foundation in 1993 and 1994 This research project was concerned with evaluating the application of database triggers and active databases for the implementation of business rules We recognized among other things the lack of a methodology for modeling such business rules on the conceptual level Therefore this became the focus of the follow up research which resulted in this book All this work would not have been possible without the help of several people First of all I would like to give special thanks to my thesis supervisor Prof Dr Gerhard Knolmayer He not only initiated the research project and found an industry partner but also provided very valuable ideas and critically reviewed and discussed the resulting publications Furthermore I would like to express my thanks to the second thesis supervisor Prof Dr Sham Navathe from Georgia Institute of Technology who influenced my work with results from a former research project and who agreed to evaluate the resulting PhD Dissertation

Modelling Reality and Personal Modelling Richard

Flavell, 2012-12-06 The recent introduction of two European index options on the FTSE Eurotrack 100 and the Eurotop 100 is evidence of a demand from investors to hedge pan European risk The FTSE Eurotrack 100 was designed to closely resemble the longer established and widely quoted Morgan Stanley European index The Eurotrack 100 covers a hundred companies in eleven countries in continental Europe The index is denominated in DM and a breakdown by value into the different countries covered is given in figure 1 Capitalisation weights for Figure 1 FT SE Eurotrack 100 Index Norway mark Germany Italy Switzerland France Netherlands Another recently introduced European index is the Eurotop 100 index denominated in EeUs this index contains twenty two UK companies which represent 27% by value of this index The attraction of investments in these indices is that they provide a basis for weighted exposure to Europe investors can then build on this 240 basis by investment in individual countries The multinational context of the universe of shares defined by this index raises some new questions for the selection of portfolios whether the portfolios are chosen for absolute performance or to track the index Various possible objectives of portfolio selection will be discussed in all cases the crucial role of the covariance matrix of returns is clear The extra source of risk present in a multinational portfolio is the combination of country risk coupled with foreign exchange risk Two models of the return covariance matrix are proposed and examined
