Modern French Literature Benjamin Willis Wells, 1896      Modern French Literature L. Raymond De V. Ricour, L. Raymond De (Louis Raymond) Véricour, 2012-08-01 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy      Modern French Literature Benjamin Willis Wells, 1896      Modern French Literature (Classic Reprint) L. Raymond De Vericour, 2017-12-19 Excerpt from Modern French Literature The editor of the present treatise was unwilling while at Paris to lose an Opportunity of becoming acquainted with the more valuable portions of recent French literature He was naturally desirous that the results of his conscientious studies might be offered to the public in such a way as would tend to remove prejudices with which the subject is unfortunately considered in this country But convinced that the latter purpose can be effected sooner and perhaps better by less ambitious labours than those of authorship he has by the advice of his Father About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      Evil: A History in Modern French Literature and Thought Damian Catani, 2013-02-14 In this original interdisciplinary approach to evil in French literature Damian Catani links literary depictions of evil with cultural events to chart a history of the concept in some of the most important texts in modern literature Beginning with Balzac and Baudelaire Catani covers the restoration and the Second Empire before interpreting how Catholic stereotypes of the evil feminine and new scientific theories impacted the work of Flaubert and Zola Moving into the twentieth century evil is then explored in terms of the Self power knowledge and politics through readings of Proust Camus Sartre and Foucault By seamlessly bringing together aesthetic philosophical historical and ideological concerns to read key French writers from the 18th to the 21st century this study argues why a broader treatment of literary evils is vital to understanding our contemporary moral and political climate      Promenades Richard Cobb, 1980      Modern French literature Denis Saurat, 1946      Dictionary of Modern French Literature Sandra W. Dolbow, 1986-06-24 Product information not available      Repair the World Alexandre Gefen, 2024-08-19 Talk of repair has become ubiquitous in recent years In the age of trauma culture art and literature have a new purpose to do justice to console comfort and heal Drawing on works of twenty first century French language literature this monograph shows how literature can not only serve as a means of personal development but expand our capacity for empathy help repair the brokenness implied in victimhood and redress individual and collective traumas Centered on a critical reflection on discourses of repair and reparations it questions the canonical theories on the functions of literature and proposes a new way of writing and reading literary history Praise Repair the World is an invigorating and essential call to arms The modern category of the literary it declares is being outpaced by the contemporary uses of literature as a medium of exorcism empathy reparation testimony commemoration existential renewal and ethical or political connectivity Neither celebrating nor condemning such uses Gefen models a much needed style of criticism interdisciplinary pragmatic relational that comes to grips with their importance Rita Felski the John Stewart Bryan Professor and Professor of English at the University of Virginia USA In an era where self help memoir and autobiography command more than their fair share of publisher s lists in France it s tempting some fifty years after post structuralism s heyday to ascribe an impending death of literature to a taste for narcissistic exhibitionism in French literary culture But why bemoan the waning relevance of the question what is literature asks Alexandre Gefen when evidence abounds in the new century that literary writing increasingly posits itself as a restorative reparative act In the best instances authors who give form to embodied experience imaginatively forge with their readers empathetic bonds of the sort that secular and religious institutions long sustained Repair the World is not only a capacious study of writers who hail from surprisingly broad sectors of French society from health and social workers to skilled laborers journalists and educators it s a situated call for a pragmatics of reading that makes of each book an intervention into the fabric of the real Harnessing sources in affect theory trauma studies ethics and cognitive science Alexandre Gefen performs a critically reparative act all his own reminding us that the notion of literature as autonomous object was itself a historical construct in short an ideology Reading and writing have always conjoined care for the self and care for others and it s upon that reciprocity that the communities of sense of tomorrow can flourish in a spirit of reparative humanism Derek Schilling Professor of French Director of the Centre Louis Marin Department of Modern Languages and Literatures Johns Hopkins University USA Alexandre Gefen s wide ranging thought provoking study takes stock of a paradigm shift in contemporary French literature away from a model of autonomy and intransitivity to ways of writing and reading that seek to repair restore reassure and rebuild From the varied forms of expressivity found in self narratives to the empathetic projections of fiction Repair the World maps out an expanding literary territory that seeks not critical negativity but rather the power to intervene for good in individual and collective life While reserving judgment on the actual extent of literature s effects Gefen demonstrates that contemporary projects and discourses undeniably center the therapeutic and remediative uses of literature With its nuanced readings and keen insights Repair the World has been rightly influential in France its powerful diagnosis of contemporary sensibilities resonates far beyond revealing both the promises and predicaments of literature in the twenty first century Alison James Professor of French and Chair of the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at the University of Chicago USA What would it mean to ask Sartre's post-war question What is literature in the 21st century In this wonderful essay Alexandre Gefen argues convincingly that the main purpose of literature today is to repair a broken world and memorialise forgotten lives Taking examples from predominantly contemporary French literature he proposes that literature as therapy has replaced religions of salvation a politics of emancipation and formal experimentation Today literature's mission is to heal traumatised individuals and communities resurrect the lives of the vulnerable and commemorate their deeds in the face of the forces of oblivion For Gefen Patrick Modiano's Dora Bruder 1997 is the contemporary literary archetype of these lost identities to be rehabilitated and reinhabited Gefen describes this new role for literature without taking sides the writing is lucid compelling and non-partisan In an age of victimhood testimony empathy self-expression and identity Gefen's reparative paradigm is as persuasive as Sartre's political version in the age of ideology Max Silverman Professor of Modern French Studies University of Leeds UK Modern French Literature Debra Popkin, 1990 From Proust to Camus André Maurois, 1966 This book is the ideal introduction to modern French literature Modern French literature Debra Popkin, Michael Popkin, 1977 Contemporary Fiction in French Anna-Louise Milne, Russell Williams, 2021-03-25 Our global literary field is fluid and exists in a state of constant evolution Contemporary fiction in French has become a polycentric and transnational field of vibrant and varied experimentation the collapse of the distinction between French and Francophone literature has opened up French writing to a world of new influences and interactions In this collection renowned scholars provide thoughtful close readings of a whole range of genres from graphic novels to crime fiction to the influence of television and film to analyse modern French fiction in its historical and sociological context Allowing students of contemporary French literature and culture to situate specific works within broader trends the volume provides an engaging global and timely overview of contemporary fiction writing in French and demonstrates how our modern literary world is more complex and diverse than ever before Sublime Worlds Emma Gilby, 2017-07-05 Some of the language we come across in reading other people's works or listening to others speak moves us profoundly It requires a response from us it occupies and involves us Writers always readers and listeners as well are fascinated by this phenomenon which became the subject of the classical treatise On the Sublime traditionally attributed to Longinus Emma Gilby looks at this compelling and complex text in relation to the work of three major seventeenth-century authors Pierre Corneille Blaise Pascal and Nicolas Boileau She offers in each case intimate critical readings which spin out into broad interrogations about knowledge and experience in early modern French literature Modern French Literature: A-J Debra Popkin, Michael Popkin, 1977 Promenades Richard Cobb, 1986 Modern French Literature, 1870-1940 Denis Saurat, 1971 The Study of Modern French Literature Henri Peyre, 1965 Anthology of Modern French Literature Irville Charles Lecompte, 1953 Anthology of Modern French Literature Irville C.
