Modern Movement:

The Challenge of Change: Dealing with the Legacy of the Modern Movement Dirk van den Heuvel, Maarten Mesman, Bert Lemmens, 2008-09-15 Conservation of architecture and the conversation of Modern architecture in particular has assumed new challenges. Rather than attempting to return a Modern building to its resumed original state the challenge of these proceedings is to revalue the essence of the manifold manifestations of Modern architecture and redefine its meanings in a rapidly changing world of digital revolution worldwide mobility and environmental awareness. This volume aims to provide a variety of platforms for the exchange of ideas and experience. A large international group of architects, historians, scholars, preservationists and other parties involved in the processes of preserving, renovating and transforming Modern buildings has been invited to investigate the paradox of the Modern monument and to reflect on the manifold dilemmas of change and continuity. The general theme is elaborated through five sub themes. The sub theme Change and Continuity addresses the tensions between change and continuity from a historical theoretical perspective. Restructuring Cities and Landscapes focuses on the larger scale of city and landscape while Shifts in Programme and Flexibility draws attention to the scale of the building or building complex and questions limits of re-use and flexibility. The fourth sub theme deals with education and the fifth sub theme Progress Technology and Sustainability considers specific issues of techniques and materials.

The Modern Movement in Art Reginald Howard Wilenski, 1957      The Modernist Movement in the Roman Church Alec R. Vidler, 2014-07-17 Originally published in 1934 this book examines the Modernist movement in Roman Catholicism from its beginnings around 1890 until its conclusion around 1910. Vidler examines the pre-Modernist condition of Catholicism in France, Germany, Italy and England and the outcome of the modernist movement both within and outside of the Catholic Church. This book will be of value to anyone with an interest in this tumultuous time in the development of Catholic theology.

Marking Modern Movement Susan Funkenstein, 2020-10-26 Imagine yourself in Weimar Germany you are visually inundated with depictions of dance. Perusing a women's magazine you find photograph after photograph of leggy revue starlets clad in sequins and feathers coquettishly smiling at you. When you attend an art exhibition you encounter Otto Dix's six foot tall triptych Metropolis featuring Charleston dancers in the latest luxurious fashions or Emil Nolde's watercolors of Mary Wigman with their luminous blues and purples evoking her choreographies' mystery and expressivity. Invited to the Bauhaus you participate in the Metallic Festival and witness the school's transformation into a humorous shiny technological total work of art you costume yourself by strapping a metal plate to your head, admire your reflection in the tin balls hanging from the ceiling and dance the Bauhaus signature step in which you vigorously hop and stomp late into the night. Yet behind the razzle dazzle of these depictions and experiences was one far more complex involving issues of gender and the body during a tumultuous period in history. Germany's first democracy 1918-1933. Rather than mere titillation the images copiously illustrated and analyzed in Marking Modern Movement illuminate how visual artists and dancers befriended one another and collaborated together In many ways because of these bonds artists and dancers forged a new path in which images revealed artists deep understanding of dance their dynamic engagement with popular culture and out of that a possibility of representing women dancers as cultural authorities to be respected Through six case studies Marking Modern Movement explores how and why these complex dynamics occurred in ways specific to their historical moment Extensively illustrated and with color plates Marking Modern Movement is a clearly written book accessible to general readers and undergraduates Coming at a time of a growing number of major art museums showcasing large scale exhibitions on images of dance the audience exists for a substantial general public interest in this topic

Cultures Volume 2 João Mascarenhas-Mateus, Ana Paula Pires, 2021-07-08. Volume 2 of History of Construction Cultures contains papers presented at the 7ICCH Seventh International Congress on Construction History held at the Lisbon School of Architecture, Portugal, from 12 to 16 July 2021. The conference has been organized by the Lisbon School of Architecture FAUL, NOVA School of Social Sciences and Humanities, the Portuguese Society for Construction History Studies and the University of the Azores. The contributions cover the wide interdisciplinary spectrum of Construction History and consist on the most recent advances in theory and practical case studies analysis following themes such as epistemological issues, building actors, building materials, building machines, tools and equipment, construction processes, building services and techniques, structural theory and analysis, political, social and economic aspects, knowledge transfer and cultural translation of construction cultures. Furthermore, papers presented at thematic sessions aim at covering important problematics, historical periods and different regions of the globe, opening new directions for Construction History research. We are what we build and how we build, thus the study of Construction History is now more than ever at the centre of current debates as to the shape of a sustainable future for humankind. Therefore, History of Construction Cultures is a critical and indispensable work to expand our understanding of the ways in which everyday building activities have been perceived and experienced in different cultures from ancient times to our century and all over the world.
