

Mission Statement

Friends Child Care Center is guided by the Quaker belief that there is that of God in every person. This belief inspires and informs everyday life at the Center while it affirms the individual value of each child, teacher and parent. The approach to learning is broad but simple: children learn to get along with other people as they experience the rewards of learning what they want to know.

Friends Child Care Center provides quality child care for young children whose parents are Friends Center employees or live/work in the Philadelphia area. We strive to reflect the cultural and economic diversity of our urban community. We encourage young children in their ability to be caring, curious, responsible beings.

Mission Child:

Mission Child Maureen F. McHugh, 1998 Young Janna has lived her fourteen years on the icy northern plains of a world that has forgotten its history Now the arrival of Earthers descendants of the humans who first settled the planet many centuries before has violently upset the fragile balance of a developing civilization The offworlders advanced technologies and cruel indifference to local life have brought despair and destruction to Janna s home robbing her of family husband child and self Haunted by a dead past mysteriously altered by the gift of three alien artifacts Janna must now redefine herself on a devastated planet she no longer recognizes as she embarks upon a remarkable transcendent journey into an uncertain future moving steadily through this strange new world toward a startling realization about her role in the great cosmic order
