Mission In The Gospels:

Mission in the Gospels Geoffrey Harris, 2014-01-27 Mission in the Gospels considers the gospels through a twin lens first the nature of Jesus own mission as understood by the evangelists and secondly the desire of the gospel writers and their churches to gain some understanding of their own mission by interpreting Jesus attitudes and actions especially with regard to the Gentiles The principles for mission that arise out of this investigation shed a good deal of new light on the gospels and the motives for their writing and on their theological insights

The Missions of Jesus and the Disciples According to the Fourth Gospel Andreas J. Köstenberger, 1998 In this exegetical study of the Gospel of John Andreas Kostenberger strives to discover and articulate a thoroughly biblical theology of mission which would have contemporary implications for how the church responds to Christ's mandate

Mission in the New Testament William J. Larkin, Joel F. Williams, 1998 This book presents a comprehensive articulation of New Testament teachings on mission from a contemporary American evangelical standpoint Mission in the New Testament contributes a fresh statement of the biblical foundations of mission serving as a catalyst for completion of the church's universal mission in this generation After investigating the historical background of the idea of mission in the Hebrew Scriptures inter testamental Judaism the life of Jesus and the beginnings of the church the book proceeds in a roughly canonical order through the New Testament Essays analyze the works of Paul the Synoptic gospels Acts of the Apostles the General Epistles and the Book of Revelation Well versed in the historical critical method of biblical interpretation editors and contributors alike offer a cogent argument for recovering the missional horizon of the New Testament

For All Peoples Craig S. Keener, 2020-08-27 Given this unique locus of today's church this book takes us back to the foundational teachings of Jesus on missions the Great Commission Gospel of Matthew and the Messianic Commission Gospel of John Although these two passages are universal in grounding Christian mission Professor Keener wants to assure that the role of the Holy Spirit is central to Christian living and acting as God's witnesses Wonsuk Ma PhD Dean Distinguished Professor of Global Christianity College of Theology and Ministry Oral Roberts University Craig Keener one of the finest and most prolific NT scholars of our day has produced another gem For All Peoples A Biblical Theology of Missions in the Gospels and Acts blends together rich scholarly insights rooted in an unsurpassed knowledge of the first century world with an edifying and pastoral eye that is always focused on the radical nature of Jesus call to follow him in his redemptive mission Successive chapters illuminate the seminal contributions that Matthew Luke John and Paul make to a biblical theology of missions The final chapter rooted in the narrative of Acts appropriately ties together these themes by describing Paul's Macedonian vision as a call for the Church to take the gospel from its place of origin in Asia to the mission field of Europe After almost two millennia Keener reminds us just how relevant this call remains for the growing and vibrant churches of Asia today Robert P Menzies PhD Kunming China This is Craig Keener at his best thoroughly expository and passionately missional Dave Johnson DMiss Managing Editor Asian Journal of Pentecostal Studies

Mission in Context: In Search of Asian Strategic Communication of the Gospel Thang Deih Lian Davidlianno, 2018-05-09 There is a profusion of missional issues emerging in the Asian fields that call Christ's followers to actively witnessing the Truth. Missionaries from different continents have come to serve the Asian nations and yet these God's loving missionaries effectiveness often seem to have left in the shade by some damaging fruits and sometimes being too much of Westernness stemming from a diversity of lacking knowledge particularly the local contexts to contextualize and lack of preparation. The irrefutable finding is appealing within the Asian mission study in regard to the essentiality in equipping the Christians so that the ministries in Asia will experience the effectiveness in cultivating the diverse contexts cultures with the text Scripture they have. Many principles and practical information from this book grew out of the authors experiences and the reflection of Missiologists and scholars such as Andrew Walls, Christopher Wright, Kazoh Kitamori, Paul Hiebert etc. Recovering the Full Mission of God Dean Flemming, 2013-10-04 Should our proclamation of the gospel be in words or deeds or both? What do the Scriptures say? New Testament scholar and missionary Dean Flemming takes a look at this disputed question. Rooted in the Old Testament and covering the Gospels, Paul, Acts, Peter and Revelation, Flemming provides a biblically sound basis for holistic evangelism.

Mission from a Position of Weakness Paul Yonggap Jeong, 2007 This book deals with mission from a position of weakness from the perspective of Kingdom of God missiology. Both in the Bible and history, God's power in mission is manifested through the weakness of the cross of Jesus and of his disciples in any era. In this book, the author asserts that the principles of mission from a position of weakness should be the foundational and guiding value for mission of the whole Church of Christ. The Earliest Christian Mission to "all Nations" in the Light of Matthew's Gospel James LaGrand, 1999 This original work of scholarship clarifies how in light of Matthew's Gospel the first Christians understood and claimed Israel's messianic mission to people of every ethnic group immediately after Jesus' death and resurrection. The Meaning of Mission José Comblin, 1977 Encountering Theology of Mission (Encountering Mission) Craig Ott, Stephen J. Strauss, Timothy C. Tennent, 2010-05-01 This fresh comprehensive text fills a need for an up to date theology of mission. It offers creative approaches to answering some of the most pressing questions in theology of mission and missionary practice today. The authors who are leading mission experts discuss biblical theology of mission, provide historical overviews of the development of various viewpoints and address theologically current issues in global mission from an evangelical perspective. This readable yet thorough text integrates current views of the kingdom of God and holistic mission with traditional views of evangelism and church planting. It also brings theology of mission into conversation with ecclesiology and eschatology. Topics covered include contextualization, the missionary vocation, church and mission, and theology of religions. Sidebars and case studies enable readers to see how theology of mission touches real life mission practice. Mission in the Gospels Robert Geoffrey Harris, 2004 Mission was at the heart of the life of the Early Church and the Gospels yet very little attention has been given to the subject by New Testament scholars The churches at the time of the Gospels were compelled to forge their own identity over and against Judaism They were also wrestling with the practical and theological problems of successful mission to the Gentile nations In this book the author looks closely at the theme of mission in each of the Gospels before drawing his findings together and relating them to the life and the challenges faced by today's church Understanding Christian Mission Scott W. Sunquist, 2013-09-15 This comprehensive introduction helps students pastors and mission committees understand contemporary Christian mission historically biblically and theologically Scott Sunquist a respected scholar and teacher of world Christianity recovers missiological thinking from the early church for the twenty first century He traces the mission of the church throughout history in order to address the global church and offers a constructive theology and practice for missionary work today Sunquist views spirituality as the foundation for all mission involvement for mission practice springs from spiritual formation He highlights the Holy Spirit in the work of mission and emphasizes its trinitarian nature Sunquist explores mission from a primarily theological rather than sociological perspective showing that the whole of Christian theology depends on and feeds into mission Throughout the book he presents Christian mission as our participation in the suffering and glory of Jesus Christ for the redemption of the nations Introduction to Global Missions Zane Pratt, M. David Sills, Jeff K. Walters, 2014-07-01 Missions is the work of the church to reach and teach the peoples of the world for Christ's sake The missionary call is a vital part of the life of every follower of Jesus Christ and therefore the church But the effective discipleship of all nations requires a solid biblical historical and practical foundation Therefore the study of missiology demands the effective application of biblical studies theology and history This text brings the rich heritage of evangelical missiology founded on conservative theology to a twenty first century audience passionate for the proclamation of the gospel Introduction to Global Missions brings the authors decades of combined missionary and teaching experience to a survey text appropriate for college or seminary classroom The book is divided into four sections and thirteen chapters The text begins with the biblical and theological foundations of Christian missions including a biblical theology of missions Before moving to the practical and strategic issues of twenty first century missions the authors consider the historical development of missions with a view toward providing a basis for contemporary strategies A final foundational set of chapters addresses the impact of cultures on the communication of the gospel The remainder of the text deals with key issues and opportunities in missions including church planting missions in the local church and strategies for disciple making Introduction to Global Missions provides a foundation for readers to consider their own missionary call whether as a full time field missionary or a church member on short term projects No matter their role Great Commission Christians need a framework for doing missions well Miracle and Mission James A. Kelhoffer, 2000 The Longer Ending of the Gospel of Mark Mark 16:9-20 was appended to the Gospel of Mark in the first half of the second century James A Kelhoffer explores this passage's distinct witness to the use of gospel traditions and the development of Christian thought Concerning the origin of this passage he argues that a single author made use of the New Testament Gospels in forging a more satisfactory ending to Mark. He studies the passage's sometimes innovative literary forms as well. Also of interest is the passage's claim that the ascended Lord will help those who believe to perform miraculous signs: casting out demons, speaking in new languages, picking up snakes, drinking poison with impunity, and healing the sick when they preach the gospel (verses 17, 18, 20). This expectation is compared with portraits of miracles especially in the context of mission in the New Testament, various apocryphal acts, and Christian apologists of the second and third centuries. In the two final chapters, the author interprets the signs of picking up snakes (verse 18a) and drinking a deadly substance with impunity (verse 18b) in their history of religions contexts. An Epilogue summarizes the findings of this study and explores what can be ascertained about the otherwise unknown Christian author of Mark 16:9-20.

The Liberating Mission of Jesus Dario Andres Lopez Rodriguez, 2012-06-14

The Liberating Mission of Jesus deals with the central message of the Gospel of Luke provocatively arguing that the liberating mission of Jesus has two central themes: the universality of the love of God and the special love God has for the defenseless of society. Both of these pillars form the bedrock of Luke's theological vision, animate his Gospel throughout, and summarize the good news of the reign of God in subversive and radical form. This book shows how the liberating message announced by Jesus, as well as his liberating practice, is manifested throughout the Gospel and its implications for Christian life today. Through this thorough treatment, the full depth of Luke's vision of the liberating mission of Jesus is shown to be a paradigm for the personal and collective witness of believers regardless of the social, political, cultural, or religious boundaries that try to inhibit them from giving witness to the God of life.

Christian Mission Dana L. Robert, 2009-03-09

CHRISTIAN MISSION Dana Robert distills a quarter of a century of her research into an erudite and accessible single-volume account of how Christianity became the largest religious tradition in the world. There is no better place for any reader to start becoming informed about this important subject. David Hempton, Harvard University. Remarkable for the range and depth of the material, Robert is able to pack into so short a book. Reliable and readable, it is especially valuable for its treatment of the relation between western and non-western missionary activity. David A. Hollinger, University of California, Berkeley. Dana Robert's richly textured book shows us that the history of Christian missions is far from being merely a European colonial story and will be immensely valuable to students and general readers who are concerned to uncover the historical roots of Christianity's current status as a truly global faith. Brian Stanley, University of Edinburgh. The Gospels record that Christ commanded his disciples to go forth and teach all nations. Thus began the history of Christian mission, a phenomenon which brought about massive shifts in the nature and practice of Christianity and one that many say reflects the single most important movement of intercultural encounter over a sustained period of human history. To understand Christianity as a global movement, therefore, it is essential to study the role of mission, defined as the transmission of the Gospel across cultures. Erudite and enlightening, this brief book explores the 2,000 years of mission history, covering topics such as the meaning of the missionary through history, gender, and missions.

and missions in culture and politics Given that in the twenty first century Christianity is now largely practiced outside the West Christian Mission is an inspirational and invaluable resource to broaden our understanding of the nature of Christianity as a truly multi cultural world religion

The Encounter of Jesus and the Samaritan Woman in John 4:1-42 Fang Liu,2022 When Vincent Lebbe a Congregation of Missions C M missionary came to China from Belgium in 1901 the Chinese were generally hostile to Christianity because it was connected with Western imperialism and many missionaries had an arrogant attitude toward the Chinese When Fr Lebbe started his work as a pastor in Tian Jin in Northern China unlike other contemporary foreign missionaries he took a different approach He entered into the Chinese specific social and cultural context to do his work studying Chinese culture and learning to speak and write Chinese adapting Chinese social customs wearing traditional Chinese clothes and even changing his nationality to become Chinese He befriended all levels of society including government officers and participated in many social activities He was a successful missionary at the that time Ft Vincent Lebbe was full of enthusiasm to do his mission work His motto is I was born for the Chinese and I will die for the Chinese He wanted more brothers and sisters to join his work so he founded two congregations the Congregation of Saint John the Baptist C S J B in 1928 and my congregation Congregation of Little Sister of Saint Theresa of Child Jesus C S T in 1929 The mission of the two congregations were especially for the Chinese so Fr Lebbe taught the two congregations to stress Chinese culture and to ground our mission in Chinese native culture At that time our mission work was very successful Fr Lebbe s mission goal was to make all the Chinese Christians Later because of social political reasons the mission work was stopped for several decades in mainland China In the twenty first century the mission of the entire universal Church is facing new challenges particularly in China In these circumstances what is the best way for the Church to do mission work today I think we should go back to the biblical foundations of mission Jesus mission dominates the pages of the four Gospels However I am attracted to the story of the Samaritan woman in John 4 1 42 which narrates a typical missionary model Jesus takes bold action to cross cultural ethnic and religious divisions to dialogue with the Samaritan woman As a result not only the woman but also her townspeople are transformed by Jesus In the end the Samaritan confessed Jesus as the savior of the world This M A thesis is a modest attempt to study the theme of Jesus mission in John 4 1 42 The aim of my research is to use the typical missionary model of chapter 4 of the Gospel of John to lay a biblical foundation for the Church to carry out its mission today especially in the Chinese Church

Introduction

Christian Mission Stanley E. Porter,Cynthia Long Westfall,2010-09-01 How did a first generation Jewish messianic movement develop the momentum to become a dominant religious force in the Western world The essays here first investigate the roots of God s mission and the mission of his people in the Old Testament and Second Temple Judaism specifically in the Psalms Isaiah and Daniel The contributions then discuss the mission of Jesus and how it continued into the mission of the Twelve other Jewish believers in the Gospels General Epistles and Revelation and finally into Paul s ministry to the Gentiles documented in the book of Acts and his epistles These essays reach backward into the background of what was to become the Christian mission and forward through the New Testament to the continuing Christian mission and missions today Jesus: the Man, the Mission, and the Message C.
