The Missionary and the Diviner Michael C. Kirwen, 1987 In a series of conversations a Christian missionary and an African diviner challenge and compare one another's views on fundamental theological questions. What is the meaning of God of family and community? Of sickness and healing, death and the afterlife, good and evil? These discussions tellingly reveal both the vitality of traditional African religions and Christianity's ethnocentrism when faced with basic issues of African life. The Missionary and the Diviner demonstrates how and why a culturally informed approach to evangelization is essential to the indigenization of Christianity.

The Missionary Herald, 1884 Vols for 1828-1934 contain the Proceedings at large of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Mission Stories of Many Lands, 1894. Ethnography from the Mission Field Anneke Joubert, 2015-06-24 In Ethnography from the Mission Field The Hoffmann Collection of Cultural Knowledge Joubert et al offer a translated and annotated edition of the 24 ethnographic articles by missionary Carl Hoffmann and his local interlocutors published between the years 1913 and 1958. The edition is introduced by a historic contextualisation using a cultural historical approach to analyse the contexts in which Hoffmann's ethnographic texts were produced. Making use of historical material and Hoffmann's own words from personal diaries and letters the authors convincingly draw the attention to the discursive context in which the texts annotated in this book had been compiled. In a concluding chapter the book traces the captivating developments of the orthography of Northern Sotho through Hoffmann's texts over almost half a century. Brill has made the documentary film A Journey into the Life of a Mission Ethnographer which is interlinked with this book available online via its online channels. It is an amalgamation of digital scans, images and video footage relating to missionary Carl Hoffmann's work and life on various mission stations made available by the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin.

The African Photographic Archive Christopher Morton, Darren Newbury, 2020-10-15 African photography has emerged as a significant focus of research and scholarship over the last twenty years, the result of a growing interest in postcolonial societies and cultures and a turn towards visual evidence across the humanities and social sciences. At the same time many rich and fascinating photographic collections have come to light. dating from the 19th century to the present day Chapters consider what constitutes an archive from the familiar mission and state archives to more local vernacular and personal accumulations of photographs the importance of a critical and reflexive engagement with photographic collections and the question of where and what is Africa as constructed in the photographic archive Essential reading for all researchers working with photographic archives this book consolidates current thinking on the topic and sets the agenda for future research in this field Ritual Passage, Sacred Journey Richard P.
