Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Nina Nikki,Kirsi M.J. Valkama,2020-12-14 Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Cognitive Historical and Material Perspectives brings together articles with the shared conviction that the category of magic remains useful in religious studies and provides new insights to biblical and related texts and artifacts Historically magic has been considered in both scholarly and popular discourse to be questionable obscure and potentially subversive 19th century scholars of religion viewed magical beliefs and practices as primitive and inferior compared to Judeo Christian forms of worship which were considered true religion More recently the category has been defended especially by scholars of the cognitive science of religion who find it useful for delineating a set of beliefs and practices fundamental to all forms of religion The volume joins current scholarship in refraining from using the concept as an othering device and in arguing that it can still serve as a helpful analytical tool In addition to analyzing the discourse on magic in both ancient literature and modern scholarship the articles provide individual examples of how literary and material culture attest to the existence of magical beliefs and practices in sources from the Ancient Near East to the Byzantine Period The book is divided into three parts The contributions in the first part approach magic from the theoretical perspective of cognitive studies ritual studies and cultural evolution while the rest of the book focuses on how magic and magicians are understood in ancient sources The second part discusses a specific set of textual material dealing with blessings and curses The third part of the volume discusses the world of various destructive celestial beings from which one and one s loved ones had to be defended as well as the multitude of protective beings such as angels A History of Science, Magic and Belief Steven P.

Marrone,2014-12-11 A History of Science Magic and Belief is an exploration of the origins of modern society through the culture of the middle ages and early modern period By examining the intertwined paths of three different systems for interpreting the world it seeks to create a narrative which culminates in the birth of modernity It looks at the tensions and boundaries between science and magic throughout the middle ages and how they were affected by elite efforts to rationalise society often through religion The witch crazes of the sixteenth and seventeenth century are seen as a pivotal point and the emergence from these into social peace is deemed possible due to the Scientific Revolution and the politics of the early modern state This book is unique in drawing together the histories of science magic and religion It is thus an ideal book for those studying any or all of these topics and with its broad time frame it is also suitable for students of the history of Europe or Western civilisation in general Performing Arts Books, 1876-1981 ,1981 Black Magic Woman and Narrative

Film Montréal Aza Missouri,2015-07-17 Black Magic Woman and Narrative Film examines the transformation of the stereotypical tragic mulatto from tragic to empowered as represented in independent and mainstream cinema The author suggests that this transformation is through the character's journey towards African based religions The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record ,1930 Collected Writings: 1886-1887 (1st ed., 1958) Helena Petrovna Blavatsky,1958
