Newdicks Season Of Frost An Interrupted Biography Of Robert Frost:

Newdick's Season of Frost William A. Sutton, Robert S. Newdick, 1976-06-30 In 1935 Professor Robert Newdick of Ohio State University wrote to Robert Frost already America's most famous living poet in order to suggest certain revisions in the arrangement of the poet's collected poems. The brief letter was to begin a relationship of nearly five years ending only with Newdick's untimely death in 1939 in which Newdick assiduously gathered materials from a wide variety of sources for a projected but not authorized Frost biography. Although only part about 100 pages of the biography was actually written Newdick left behind him several files of factual data as well as observations and comments by Frost and by many people who knew him. These materials have not heretofore been published nor were they used in any subsequent biography. In the present volume William A. Sutton brings together Newdick's partial biography with his various notes and letters adding a narrative of the Frost-Newdick relationship which sheds new light on the poet and on the identity of poets. With Newdick as with subsequent researchers the fiction making Frost was often playing a game of hide and seek so that he would never be completely found out as a mere empirical datum although there is evidence that his candor with Newdick was at times greater than it would be in later years. Newdick a perceptive admirer of Frost's poetry had to struggle with his own realizations of such Frostian characteristics as secretiveness ambivalence and capriciousness and so the book reveals a great poet who could be both generous and arch a professor relentless in his search for information a famous man fitfully bothered then amused by a young academic's earnest efforts on his behalf and a biographer devoted to but at times exhausted by the demands of his biographical subject. Frost appears as one who thought of both biography and biographer as attractive nuisances. The original materials brought together here manifest therefore both a kind of biography and a chronicle of the act of biography a fresh look at the creative personality and a running account of how a biographer attempts to bring such a personality into focus

Robert Frost's Poetry of Rural Life

George Monteiro, 2015-02-13 Wise old Vergil says in one of his Georgics Praise large farms stick to small ones Robert Frost said Twenty acres are just about enough Frost started out as a school teacher living the rural life of a would be farmer and later turned to farming full time when he bought a place of his own After a sojourn in England where his first two books were published to critical acclaim he returned to New England acquired a new farm and became a rustic for much of the rest of his life Frost claimed that all of his poetry was farm poetry His deep admiration for Virgil's Georgics or poems of rural life inspired the creation of his own New England georgics his answer to the haughty 20th century modernism that seemed certain to define the future of Western poetry Like the West Running Brook in his poem of the same name Frost's poetry can be seen as an embodiment of contrariness

Now All Roads Lead to France: A Life of Edward Thomas Matthew Hollis,2012-10-22 Winner of the Costa Biography Award a fascinating exploration of one of the twentieth century s most influential poets Edward Thomas was perhaps the most beguiling and influential of the war poets This haunting account of his final five years follows him from his beloved English countryside to the battlefield in France where he lost his life. When he met the American poet Robert Frost in 1913 Thomas was tormented by feelings of failure in his work and in his marriage. With Frost's encouragement he began writing poem after poem as he finally found the expression for which he had spent his life searching. But the First World War put an ocean between them. Frost returned to New England while Thomas enlisted and went to fight in France. It is these roads taken and not taken that are at the heart of this unforgettable book which culminates in Thomas's tragic death on Easter Monday 1917. Now All Roads Lead to France encompasses an astonishingly creative moment in English literature when London was a battleground for new ambitious writing. A generation that included W B Yeats Ezra Pound Robert Frost and Rupert Brooke was making it new vehemently and pugnaciously and this dazzling biography places Thomas firmly in their midst.

Robert Frost Morris Dickstein, 2010 This title presents in depth critical discussions of his life and works. Widely celebrated during his lifetime as the greatest living American poet Robert Frost remains one of the few poets whose work is enjoyed by scholars and general readers alike. A record four time winner of the Pulitzer Prize who gave readings across America and in countries as far flung as England Brazil and Russia Frost is nevertheless known not as a cosmopolitan but as a plainspoken portraitist of rural New England. Yet despite this reputation Frost is much more than a regional poet his wit irony and willingness to rest in ambiguity make him a poet of the cosmic and universal. In the age of Ezra Pound and T S Eliot he stood alone in writing a poetry that was simultaneously accessible complex and profound. Edited and with an introduction by Morris Dickstein Distinguished Professor of English at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York and senior fellow of the Center for the Humanities this volume in the Critical Insights series brings together a variety of critical perspectives on Frost's life and works. For readers new to Frost four original essays provide valuable context for understanding and assessing his work. Together they outline the work's historical and cultural contexts survey the major pieces of Frost criticism examine Frost's relationship with modernist poetics and consider how his use of paradox and contradiction participate in and differ from the use established by Whitman and

Emerson Nine other previously published essays deepen readers understanding and offer a sampling of the key concerns of contemporary Frost critics Among these essays David Sanders draws on Frost s letters and interviews to understand how he developed his poetic voice from careful observation of his New England neighbors and how he sought to make these people visible within the growing mass culture of twentieth century America Roger Gilbert further examines Frost s poetics in his discussion of the recurrence of the trope of the walk in Frost s poetry concluding that for Frost the trope parallels the dynamic act of poetic composition Other essays examine Frost s politics with Frank Lentricchia considering how his poetry with its emphasis on replicating the rhythms of everyday speech rather than traditional conceptions of the literary gives evidence to the notion that poetics can be a register of social and political change and Tyler B Hoffman offering a unique reading of Frost s view of industrialism and the New Deal arguing that Frost was not the archconservative that leftist critics have made him out to be but rather took a highly nuanced view of the poet s obligations to politics Jeff Westover extends this vein of criticism by dissecting Frost s nationalism and Robert Bernard Hass discusses how Frost s interest in science especially astronomy impacted the religious beliefs his mother inculcated in him as a child Uniquely this volume also contains an original piece by Paris Review contributor Elizabeth Gumpert who offers a writer s perspective on Frost s fierce independence Rounding out the collection is a brief biography and chronology of Frost s life and an extensive bibliography for readers wishing to study the poet s work in greater depth Each essay is 5 000 words in length and all essays conclude with a list of Works Cited along with endnotes Robert Frost Himself Stanley Burnshaw,1986 Combines memoir biography literary history and critical study to explore the life and work of Robert Frost discussing his personal relationships religion political views poems and more Projecting Words, Writing Images John R.
