The International Distribution of News Jonathan Silberstein-Loeb,2014-02-24 This book traces the history of international news agencies and associations around the world from 1848 to 1947 Jonathan Silberstein Loeb argues that newspaper publishers formed news associations and patronized news agencies to cut the costs of news collection and exclude competitors from gaining access to the news    International News in the Digital Age Judith Clarke,Michael Bromley,2012-01-25 The new research presented in this volume suggests that general perceptions cultural psychological geographical allied to the customs and values of journalism and underpinned by the uses of technology significantly shape international news This gives rise to a blend of the old and the new traditions of cultural centredness and innovative practices anchorages of place and the rootlessness of globalization Technology per se has not swept all before it On the other hand its uses have altered the means and methods of international news sourcing construction and dissemination Consequently the uptake of technology has contributed to fundamental changes in style and form and has greatly facilitated cross cultural exchanges The category international news is now more of a hybrid as recognized by the BBC and others The chapters in this book demonstrate that this hybridity is unevenly distributed across geo political domains and often across time Nevertheless as the contributors to this volume show the concept of international news relies on tightly interwoven elements of orthodox journalism social media civic expression and public assembly    International News Communications Eugene Webster Sharp,1927    Global News Production Lisbeth Clausen,2003 Events around the world are broadcast by giant media players such as CNN BBC and NHK amongst others This book explores how powerful political and economic agendas in the national media environment influence the production processes    Foreign Aeronaautical News ,1930

Shanor,2003-07-30 Over the last two decades following major conflicts in Kuwait Kosovo Afghanistan and Iraq Americans began to participate more actively than ever before in the world s numerous nationalist religious and ethnic conflicts During this time however American news organizations drastically reduced the resources devoted to in depth coverage of international affairs Viewing foreign bureaus as an expensive luxury major news providers closed overseas offices and cut the number of full time correspondents working abroad relying instead upon improvised news crews flown in on short notice to cover the latest crisis In this insightful and hard hitting investigation former international news correspondent Donald R Shanor follows the deterioration of international reporting and assesses the dangers that arise when U S citizens and policymakers are uninformed about foreign events until local problems erupt into international crises Shanor also considers three major factors technology immigration and globalization that are influencing and complicating the debate over whether quality or profit should prevail in foreign reporting In only a decade the Internet has become a primary source of information for millions of Americans particularly for younger generations At the same time a surge in America s immigrant population is rapidly changing the country s ethic and cultural landscape making news from abroad local news in many cities while global business practices are broadening the range of issues directly affecting the average citizen News from Abroad provides a comprehensive portrait of the contemporary state of international news coverage and argues for the importance of maintaining networks of experienced journalists who can cover difficult subjects keep Americans informed about the global economy deliver early warnings of impending disasters and threats to national security and prevent the United States from falling into cultural isolation
