

A close-up photograph of a Mockingbird perched on a thin, light-colored branch. The bird is facing right, with its head slightly tilted upwards and its beak open as if it is singing. It has a greyish-brown head and back, a white underbelly, and a long, dark tail. The background is a solid, clear blue sky. In the lower-left corner, there is a yellow square with the text '4K' in black. To the right of the bird, the words 'Mockingbird' and 'Song' are written in a large, white, sans-serif font, stacked vertically.

Mockingbird Sings:

When Mockingbirds Sing Billy Coffey, 2013-06-11 Nine year old Leah's invisible friend seems harmless enough until she begins to paint the future Suddenly the townspeople are divided between those who see her as a prophet and those who fear the danger she represents Caught in the middle is Leah's agnostic father who clashes with a powerful town pastor over Leah's prophecies and what to do about them Leah is a child from Away isolated from her peers because of her stutter After her family moves to Mattingly she begins painting scenes that are epic in scope brilliant in detail and suffused with rich prophetic imagery When the event foreshadowed in the first painting dramatically comes true the town takes notice Leah attributes her ability to foretell the future to an invisible friend she calls the Rainbow Man Some of the townsfolk are enchanted with her Others fear her But there is one thing they all agree on there is no such thing as the Rainbow Man The town minister is unraveled by the notion that a mere child with no formal training may be hearing from God more clearly than he does While the town bickers over what to do with this strange child the content of Leah's paintings grows darker Still Leah insists that the Rainbow Man's heart is pure Then a dramatic and tragic turn of events leaves the town reeling and places everyone's lives in danger The people of Mattingly face a single choice will they cling to what they know or embrace the things Leah believes in that cannot be seen Supernatural standalone novel Includes discussion questions for book clubs Other books by Billy Coffey Snow Day Paper Angels The Devil Walks in Mattingly and In the Heart of the Dark Wood

East Wind Melts the Ice Liza Dalby, 2009-02-17 To read East Wind Melts the Ice is to slip into a time stream that is both as long and sinuous as history and as ephemeral as the present moment Drawing inspiration from the thousand year old history of Japanese poetic diaries and from the ancient Chinese almanac that she uses to contain her musings Liza Dalby has accomplished the seemingly impossible task of translating the sensibility of the Heian Court of 11th century Japan into the context of contemporary America The result is a stunning chronicle of the beauty of time passing and an evocation of the transient and whimsical nature of all things Ruth Ozeki author of My Year of Meats and All Over Creation I imagine Liza Dalby writing this book in an ancient library a lion sleeping at her side as in the paintings of Saint Jerome As she collects and layers arcane and fascinating pieces of knowledge she builds her own very personal almanac packed with the wonder of loving two cultures the intense inner life of each season and boundless curiosity of the scholar child This is a book to dip in and out of throughout the year Frances Mayes author of Under the Tuscan Sun Liza Dalby's memoir of the seasons is as fresh and captivating as springtime A very special book Michael Pollan author of The Omnivore's Dilemma This beautiful book awakens the senses A journal an almanac of the seasons and a series of reflections on ancient Eastern Chinese and Japanese cultures here you will find subtle observations of rain and heat tangerines mulberries and paulownia trees crickets and doves forming a rich tapestry as they are woven with evocative fragments of history stories of geishas of salesmen who sold bulk fireflies of the wood that was used for kimono chests of emptiness in the tea ceremony Like a lush garden this book is meant
