New Worlds, New Animals R. J. Hoage, William A. Deiss, 1996-05-07 Illustrated with nearly 100 photographs New Worlds, New Animals Robert J. Hoage, William A. Deiss, 1996-05-07 From King Solomon's collections of apes and peacocks to the menageries of English and Hapsburg monarchs the display of exotic animals has delighted and amazed observers for centuries Originally prized as symbols of elite wealth and power such collections have been dramatically transformed since 1800 particularly in terms of audience and purpose In New Worlds New Animals R J Hoage and William A Deiss assemble essays that concentrate on the development of the modern zoo in the nineteenth century Taking an in depth look at the social climate of the century they chart the transition from elaborate menageries for exclusive patrons to public facilities that expressed the power and might of nations to institutions dedicated to public education wildlife conservation and biological research These changes reflect the larger transformation of the West from the colonial era's desire to tame newly discovered continents to today's more egalitarian conservation minded world New Worlds New Animals begins with an overview of the history of menageries in antiquity and their development in Europe and the United States Zoos in many countries had quite different origins including a fish market that became an animal dealership before becoming a zoo and an Australian way station originally designed to acclimate Old World domestic stock to a new continent The authors also examine the period in the United States between 1830 and 1880 when popular traveling animal shows and circuses gave way to the first public zoos in New York and Philadelphia They take an in depth look at the establishment of the National Zoological Park in Washington D C the first zoo created to preserve endangered species Illustrated with nearly 100 photographs Zoo Talk Patricia G. Patrick, Sue Dale Tunnicliffe, 2012-09-28 Founded on the premise that zoos are bilingual that the zoo in the shape of its staff and exhibits and its visitors speak distinct languages this enlightening analysis of the informal learning that occurs in zoos examines the speech of exhibits and staff as well as the discourse of visitors beginning in the earliest years Using real life conversations among visitors as a basis for discussion the authors interrogate children's responses to the exhibits and by doing so develop an informal learning model and a zoo knowledge model that prompts suggestions for activities that classroom educators can use before during and after a zoo visit Their analysis of the visitor voice informs creative suggestions for how to enhance the educational experiences of young patrons By assessing visitors' entry knowledge and their interpretations of the exhibits the authors establish a baseline for zoos that helps them to refine their communication with visitors for example in expanding knowledge of issues concerning biodiversity and biological conservation The book includes practical advice for zoo and classroom educators about positive ways to prepare for zoo visits engaging activities during visits and follow up work that maximizes the pedagogical benefits It also reflects on the interplay between the developing role of zoos as facilitators of learning and the ways in which zoos help visitors assimilate the knowledge on offer In addition to being essential reading for educators in zoos and in the classroom this volume is full of insights with much broader contextual relevance for getting the most out of museum visits and field trips in general

Humans and Animals: Intersecting Lives and Worlds Anja Höing,Arieahn Matamonasa Bennett,2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Relationships between humans and non human animals are deeply complex and often governed by tensions and paradoxes Both wild and domestic metaphorical and real assistants and adversaries animals effortlessly bridge cultural and natural spaces and form an integral part of human lives This volume addresses several currently debated topics in science and culture How shall we rethink rebuild and re envision our relationships with other animals How do we construct ideas of the animal How can we negotiate animal interests against our own In which ways do we make sense and use of animals in human cultural spaces Addressing the non human animal from the standpoint of various social and cultural constructions from a global and multidisciplinary perspective the chapters within this volume do not seek to answer these questions but rather to draw attention to the complexity of the underlying issues and the manifold dimensions of the animal human bond Zookeeping Mark D. Irwin,John B. Stoner,Aaron M. Cobaugh,2013-12-09 As species extinction environmental protection animal rights and workplace safety issues come to the fore zoos and aquariums need keepers who have the technical expertise and scientific knowledge to keep animals healthy educate the public and create regional national and global conservation and management communities This textbook offers a comprehensive and practical overview of the profession geared toward new animal keepers and anyone who needs a foundational account of the topics most important to the day to day care of zoo and aquarium animals The three editors all experienced in zoo animal care and management have put together a cohesive and broad ranging book that tackles each of its subjects carefully and thoroughly The contributions cover professional zookeeping evolution of zoos workplace safety animal management taxon specific animal husbandry animal behavior veterinary care public education and outreach and conservation science Using the newest techniques and research gathered from around the world Zookeeping is a progressive textbook that seeks to promote consistency and the highest standards within global zoo and aquarium operations Animal Spaces, Beastly Places Chris Philo,Chris Wilbert,2004-08-02 Animal Spaces Beastly Places examines how animals interact and relate with people in different ways Using a comprehensive range of examples which include feral cats and wild wolves to domestic animals and intensively farmed cattle the contributors explore the complex relations in which humans and non human animals are mixed together Our emotions involving animals range from those of love and compassion to untold cruelty force violence and power As humans we have placed different animals into different categories according to some notion of species usefulness domesticity or wildness As a result of these varying and often contested orderings animals are assigned to particular places and spaces Animal Spaces Beastly Places shows us that there are many exceptions and variations on the spatiality of human animal spatial orderings within and across cultures and over time It develops new ways of thinking about human animal interactions and encourages us to find better ways for humans and animals to live together A Reader in Themed and Immersive Spaces Scott A. Lukas,2016 Themed spaces have at their foundation an overarching narrative symbolic complex or story that drives the overall context of their spaces Theming in some very unique ways has expanded beyond previous stereotypes and oversimplifications of culture and place to now consider new and often controversial topics themes and storylines Publisher s website Wild Mammals in Captivity Devra G. Osborne,1994 The colonization of Algeria in the nineteenth century was premised on the belief that Europeans as well as non indigenous animals and plants could acclimatize to life in North Africa While traditional French science showed little interest in such practical matters as attempting to adapt exotic plants and animals to new environments support came from the Societe zoologique d acclimatation the French Sierra Club whose story is the subject of this book Because its work was politically useful in support of France's colonial ambitions in Algeria and elsewhere the Society found favor with Napoleon III's government and its influence was soon widespread For example the Society fostered the creation of nature preserves in Africa and zoos in Paris and its ideas changed the research agendas of pure science as well In this major study of how the acquisition of empire affected French science Michael A Osborne treats in turn the founding of the Society and its evolution to 1920 its monument to Napoleon III's modern Paris the Jardin zoologique d acclimatation the Society's core scientific ideology of Lamarckian transformation the history of provincial acclimatization societies in Nancy and Grenoble and the Society's activities in the colonies of the new French empire An important study of the patronage and politics of science this book offers new insights for students of environmentalism science history and policy and modern European history
