The New Wind Kenneth David, 2011-06-03 No detailed description available for The New Wind      The new wind
Kenneth David, 1977      New Wind David K., 1970      The Modern Anthropology of India Peter Berger, Frank Heidemann, 2013-06-03 The Modern Anthropology of India is an accessible textbook providing a critical overview of the ethnographic work done in India since 1947 It assesses the history of research in each region and serves as a practical and comprehensive guide to the main themes dealt with by ethnographers It highlights key analytical concepts and paradigms that came to be of relevance in particular regions in the recent history of research in India and which possibly gained a pan Indian or even trans Indian significance Structured according to the states of the Indian union contributors raise several key questions including What themes were ethnographers interested in What are the significant ethnographic contributions How are peoples communities and cultural areas represented How has the ethnographic research in the area developed Filling a significant gap in the literature the book is an invaluable resource to students and researchers in the field of Indian anthropology ethnography regional anthropology and postcolonial studies It is also of interest to students of South Asian studies in general as it provides an extensive and critical overview of regionally based ethnographic activity undertaken in India      The Spectrum of the Sacred Baidyanath Saraswati, 1984      Hierarchy and Egalitarianism Tamara Gunasekera, 2020-08-20 A comprehensive analysis of stratification in rural Sri Lanka taking into account the hierarchies of class status and power      Caste, Colonialism and Counter-Modernity Debjani Ganguly, 2006-04-07 This book discusses the enigmatic persistence of caste in the lives of South Asians as they step into the twenty first century      Caste and Equality in India Akio Tanabe, 2021-07-29 This book presents an alternative view of caste in Indian society by analysing caste structure and change in local communities in Orissa from historical and anthropological perspectives Focusing on the agricultural society in the Khurda district of Orissa between the eighteenth century and 2019 the book links discussions on the current transformation of society and politics in India with analyses of long term historical transformations The author suggests that beyond status and power there is another value which is important in Indian society namely ontological equality which functions as the politico ethical ground for asserting respect and concern for the life of others The book argues that the value of ontological equality has played an important role in creating and affirming the diverse society which characterises India It further contends that the movement towards vernacular democracy which has become conspicuous since the second half of the 1990s is a historically groundbreaking event which opens a path beyond the postcolonial predicament supported by the affirmation of diversity by subalterns based on the value of ontological equality This important contribution to the study of Indian society will be of interest to academics working on the social political and economic history sociology anthropology and political science of South Asia as well as to those interested in social and political theory India Through Hindu Categories McKim Marriott, 1990-04 This volume explores social science ideas from the standpoint of Indian rather than Western cultural realities The variations are not explored from any single South Asian value or social configuration The multi dimensional and dynamic nature of the South Asian social world is brought to vivid life for the first time within the discipline of the social sciences

The Occupied Clinic Saiba Varma,2020-09-21 In The Occupied Clinic Saiba Varma explores the psychological ontological and political entanglements between medicine and violence in Indian controlled Kashmir the world s most densely militarized place Into a long history of occupations insurgencies suppressions natural disasters and a crisis of public health infrastructure come interventions in human distress especially those of doctors and humanitarians who struggle against an epidemic more than sixty percent of the civilian population suffers from depression anxiety PTSD or acute stress Drawing on encounters between medical providers and patients in an array of settings Varma reveals how colonization is embodied and how overlapping state practices of care and violence create disorienting worlds for doctors and patients alike Varma shows how occupation creates worlds of disrupted meaning in which clinical life is connected to political disorder subverting biomedical neutrality ethics and processes of care in profound ways By highlighting the imbrications between humanitarianism and militarism and between care and violence Varma theorizes care not as a redemptive practice but as a fraught sphere of action that is never quite what it seems

Conversations Between Economists and Anthropologists Pranab K. Bardhan,1989 A wide methodological gulf separates economists and anthropologists Some of the basic purposes of this book are to bridge this methodological gap by focusing upon an area explored by both economists and anthropologists who work in the developing world measuring economic change in rural areas

Debts and Debtors Charles Malamoud,1983 The Oxford India Companion to Sociology and Social Anthropology Veena Das,2003 With fascinating entries on sociological and social anthropological research in India this volume presents a wealth of information including developments in the field important empirical work and its contributions to sociology as a whole It will appeal to all sociology students as well as to anyone with a broad interest in Asian studies

Urban Anthropology ,1979

Unzipping Gender Charlotte Suthrell,2004-04 How does culture shape notions of sexuality and gender Why are transvestites in the West so often seen as deviant or perverse while they are accepted in other societies What are the implications for the categories of male and female when considering transvestism Transvestism and its cultural practice is a useful lens through which we can view and thus debate models of sex gender and sexuality Drawing on primary fieldwork Unzipping Gender offers a cross cultural study of transvestism through an examination of transvestites in Britain and the Hijras of India The author tackles the critical question of whether or not transvestism is motivated primarily by sex or gender and she challenges the straightforward binary divide that dominates Western theories of gender Taking into account the importance of material culture she also pays close attention to the detail of dress and considers the artefactual nature of the construction of the self through clothing Highlighting the differences between the two groups and drawing on further cross cultural perspectives Suthrell illustrates the social construction of sex and gender She considers the roles that emotion mythology imagery and belief systems play in influencing ideas about sex and gender in different cultures Since sex and gender must inevitably be intertwined Suthrell argues for a more sophisticated response to the complex practice of transvestism In order to gain a deeper understanding of sex and gender issues it is imperative to examine the underlying social and symbolic structures This unique study across cultures leads the way Contributions to Indian Sociology ,1993
