Lovers Lovers:

LOVER Thaddeus Tadeusz Hutyr, 2015-06-03 It is an anthology of romantic poems addressed to readers who love poems with erotic scents Love is the central theme in all my poems and reading the poems feels like hearing some symphonic play or listening to pop and rock hits on radio I was born in mountainous Rajcza south Poland where I spent my childhood and teenage years and where I also studied and participated in the so called Solidarity movement against the communist regime I emigrated out of Poland yet when Poland was still in the Soviet thaw and I became a citizen of New Zealand within five years I lived in marvelous Wellington the capital of NZ called often Windy Wellington due to the very many winds blowing through the city both from the Pacific and nearby mountains While in New Zealand I lived there also in Auckland and Coromandel Peninsula for a while Afterwards I traveled worldwide I had been amongst others in China and finally settled down in Antwerp Belgium The United States was always the country of my final destination and my departure from Poland just eight days before martial law was in fact me emigrating to America which I have never so far had luck to get to In the meantime I am feeling myself quite comfortable in the European Union a great project of all Europeans which came true America and especially New York City with its Statue of Liberty remain my dream Freedoms cherished by America are the unstoppable trend and I myself am fully behind it wishing the same to all individuals across the world freedoms human rights love

Love You, Hate You, Love You Tadeusz Hutyr, 2015-03-19 No matter what Juliet Having you my Juliet and though drama is hanging in the air How many times we danced in the open air sweetly in arms How many times our kisses brought us into glamorous palaces of love How many times our minds were no longer deserts but oasis of loving hearts Even though our constellation is far from the starry one I love you with all my heart No matter what shall happen no one and nothing shall separate us We are the lovers of all times larger than life you and me Romeo and Juliet Joy and Tyranny Arnold Wesker, 2012-09-07 My preoccupation says Arnold Wesker in his interview portrait Ambivalences published by Oberon Books with violence stemming from perceived intimidation by the bright ones who dare to be clever or simply different began with an incident at school While queuing for a school meal one of the other boys wanted me to try his liquorice stick I didn't want to This other pupil insisted I continued to decline I didn't like liquorice That I didn't want to share what he liked what he thought was good enraged the other boy who couldn't bear my indifference to his taste and he hit me I've never lost this image of violence induced by the outsider the one who dissents the one who doesn't share in what others like or believe One day Wesker vowed I may write a play beginning with that image of the boy who wants another boy to share his taste in liquorice and hits him because he doesn't It'll be an exploration of the nature of violence In late 2010 he wrote just such a play Joy and Tyranny but the playwright doesn't describe it as a play rather as Arias and variations on the theme of violence In fact it is a patchwork quilt knitting together many extracts from other of his works as though throughout his career he was infusing those works ghost like with a hidden play waiting the right time to emerge The Works of William Shakespeare
