Loving Ben Cooper C. C. Monroe, 2017-06-29 Sadie Christ is my redeemer the drive behind my moral compass he leads me down every road the righteous road My heart full of love my body pure and untouched my words clean my body modest I do all things because I believe in my Christian faith and I believe that my life has been planned out for me I will meet the perfect man of God one who will give me a family and a wholesome life There is no room for anything less no room for speed bumps or road blocks Except for the one man who threw a wrench in my spinning tire The one man who made me question my faith and what true faith really is Ben Cooper my very own sinner Ben Each blow to the face feels glorious I crave the pain of each punch from my back alley opponent The high I get from each fight that I antagonize is the same high I get when I strum my guitar and hit the high notes in the microphone That rush is just like the pain I feel with the blows I take Violence is my decadence and music is my redemption I love beautiful women the taste of whiskey on my tongue and the smell of tobacco on my breath I m a man with no morals and no plan to my madness I m a man with only the promise of the day I m in Until I find the most beautiful melody dressed in full clothes and a cross around her neck Sadie McCallister my very own saint

Emporium ceiling knocking the wind out of Kincaid and sending him right back to his old profession The dead woman is Cajun Lily Campbell a grand dame of the Tulsa music scene and onetime girlfriend of Uncle Earl himself And Kincaid must be careful as he readies the old jazzman s defense because there is a killer on the north side of town who would like nothing more than to hear the piano player s last tune
