Archivum Historicum Societatis Iesu, 2006 Book of Imaginary Media Eric Kluitenberg, 2006 Have you ever wondered if one day Windows 2028 might just know what you're thinking and type it? In this collection of essays a selection of today's top media and sci-fi theorists weigh in. The Book of Imaginary Media explores the persistent idea that technology may one day succeed where no human has: not only in space or in nature but also in interpersonal communication. Building on insights from media archeology, Siegfried Zielinski, Bruce Sterling, Erkki Huhtamo, and Timothy Druckrey spin a web of associations between the fantasy machines of Athanasius Kircher, the mania of stereoscopy, and dead media. Edwin Carels and Zoe Beloff descend into the cinematographic caverns of spiritualism and the iconography of death, and renowned cartoonists including Ben Katchor depict their own visionary media fantasies. On the enclosed DVD, artist Peter Blegvad provides hilarious commentary in a son-et-lumière version of his On Imaginary Media. Early Science and Medicine, 2008

Humanistica Lovaniensia Gilbert Tournoy, 2005-02-15 Volume 54 What Nature Does Not Teach Juanita Feros Ruys, 2008 This interdisciplinary volume takes as its subject the multifaceted genre of didactic literature, the literature of instruction which constituted the cornerstone of literary enterprise and social control in medieval and early modern Europe. Following an Introduction that raises questions of didactic meaning, intent, audience, and social effect, nineteen chapters deal with the construction of the individual didactic voice and persona in the premodern period; didactic literature for children; women as the creators, objects, and consumers of didactic literature; the influence of advice literature on adult literacy, piety, and heresy; and the revision of classical didactic forms and motifs in the early modern period. Attention is paid throughout to the continuities of didactic literature across the medieval and early modern periods, its intertextuality, reliance on tradition and self-renewal, and to questions of gender, authority, control, and the socially constructed nature of advice. Contributors particularly explore the intersection of advice literature with real lives, considering the social impact of both individual texts and the didactic genre as a whole. The volume deals with a wide variety of texts from the early Middle Ages to the eighteenth century, written in languages from Latin through the European vernaculars to Byzantine Greek and Russian, offering a comprehensive overview of this pervasive and influential genre. Epilanguages Pascale Hummel, 2009 Books in Print Supplement, 2002

Deep Time of the Media Siegfried Zielinski, 2006 Deep Time of the Media takes us on an archaeological quest into the hidden layers of media development, dynamic moments of intense activity in media design and construction that have been largely ignored in the historical media archaeological record. Siegfried Zielinski argues that the history of the media does not proceed predictably from primitive tools to complex machinery. In Deep Time of the Media he illuminates turning points of media history, fractures in the predictable that help us see the new in the old. Book jacket
