Luba Gurdjieff:

Luba Gurdjieff Luba Gurdjieff Everitt, 1997 As a child Luba Gurdjieff fled revolutionary Russia with her family for the refuge of her uncle G I Gurdjieff's spiritual school in France. She was raised amid artists, intellectuals and politicians such as Katherine Mansfield, Bertrand Russell and Franklin Roosevelt who came seeking her uncle George's insights to the riches of Eastern wisdom. Here is an intimate glimpse of this fascinating household and some of the secrets of the kitchen.

Gurdjieff's America Paul Beekman Taylor, 2004 Offers information and stories about Gurdjieff setting him within the cultural and social contexts of America between 1924 and 1935. Gurdjieff Reconsidered Roger Lipsey, 2019-02-05 From a master biographer and longtime Gurdjieff practitioner a brilliant new exploration of the quintessential Western esoteric teacher of the twentieth century. The Greek Armenian teacher G I Gurdjieff was one of the most original and provocative spiritual teachers in the twentieth century West. Whereas much work on Gurdjieff has been either fawning or blindly critical, acclaimed scholar and writer Roger Lipsey balances sympathetic interest in Gurdjieff and his Fourth Way teachings with a historian's sense of context and a biographer's feel for personality and relationships. Using a wide range of published and unpublished sources, Lipsey explores Gurdjieff's formative travels in Central Asia, his famed teaching institution in France, the development of the Gurdjieff Movements and music, and above all Gurdjieff's fascinating continuous evolution as a teacher. Published on the 70th anniversary of Gurdjieff's death, Gurdjieff Reconsidered delves deeply into Gurdjieff's writings and those of his most important students including P D Ouspensky and Jeanne de Salzmann. Lipsey's comprehensive approach and unerring sense of the subject make this a must read for anyone with a serious intention to explore Gurdjieff's life, teachings and reputation.

The Shadows of Heaven Paul Beekman Taylor, 1998-05-01 A great deal of mystery surrounds G I Gurdjieff and The Work. Today many on the path of self-exploration find themselves drawn to the symbolism of the enneagram and to Gurdjieff's other teachings. Gurdjieff was undeniably charismatic; many famous and influential people lived in his shadow, accepting his guidance while changing and transforming their lives. Shadows of Heaven focuses on the relationship between Gurdjieff and the poet-novelist Nathan Jean Toomer from 1924 until Gurdjieff's death in 1949, as well as each man's relationship with Edith Annesley Taylor and her son Paul, the author of this book. Caught in the middle of this tense triad of interests was the English critic-publisher A R Orage, who was close to all three parties and whose wife Jessie was Edith's best friend. Paul Taylor's unique life experience has made it possible for him to combine his mother's memoirs, conversations between Toomer and Gurdjieff, and entries from Jessie Orage's diary into this fascinating book. It is probably the first to reveal something of Gurdjieff's love life with the mothers of his children. Several new descriptions of Gurdjieff's voyages with his pupils reveal aspects of Gurdjieff's character not documented elsewhere. Excerpts from Jessie Orage's diaries testify to the magnetic attraction Gurdjieff exercised over those he felt were vital to the dissemination of his ideas. With 16 pages of never-before published photographs, this book presents a fresh new picture of Gurdjieff and his teaching.

the followers of my ideas which had already been organized ten years before during my first visit in New York I wish to begin with this description chiefly because upon these talks as I planned them in my thoughts a corresponding foundation may be built for everything which I have decided to introduce into the conscious life of people by means of this third and last series of my writings furthermore because the publication of these lectures combined with the description of the events and causes which provoked them to which events and causes I reacted by means of these very talks of definite form and sequence will I have almost no doubt create in their totality a so to say automatically acting factor for the possible saving from their total ruination of many thousand people of both sexes from various countries in Europe Asia and America In this introductory book of the third series I shall expose the quintessence of five talks four of which were delivered by me at the end of 1930 and the beginning of 1931 and one other at the end of 1931 or the beginning of 1932 For the readers of this series of my expositions no matter in which degree of consciousness they may rank themselves it would not in my opinion be superfluous to know among other things from which of my conceptions and instinctive suppositions was derived the phrase I used consciously to acquit myself with Great Nature This phrase burst forth from me almost involuntarily and took a shape which derived from the totality of my instinctive and conscious conviction that by this act of making known this last series of my writings I could rely on fulfilling what is in my opinion the most important duty of a man who has reached responsible age which consists in preparing without fail for the benefit of posterity according to one s own individuality certain profitable instructions furthermore I could by this same act albeit quite subjectively justify the sense of all my past intentional labors and conscious renunciations of all kinds of benefits which are generally crystallized in the life of contemporary people and which have always been very easy for me to obtain and finally I hope in the moment of my last breathing to experience with no possible mental sensitive or instinctive doubt the impulse sacred for a man which was called by the ancient Essenes impartial self satisfaction In order that there should arise in the mentation of the readers of this book for a better orientation and an easier logical confrontation with what will follow a something which existed on Earth before the Babylonian civilization in a branch of science named Theomathos and was called a vivifying factor for objective assuming I refer of course to the mentation of those readers who as soon as they became acquainted with my expositions were guided by and closely followed my advice I wish first of all to try for their inner sight to depict by a verbal description various information the totality of which might help them to represent in true perspective and clearly understand two situations which occurred in the process of my ordinary life during the time of my writing activity National Union Catalog ,1956 Includes entries for maps and atlases
