Standring,2021-01-01 A revelatory look at an underexplored chapter of American art which took place not on American soil but in France In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries American artists flocked to France in search of instruction critical acclaim and patronage Some including James McNeill Whistler John Singer Sargent and Mary Cassatt became highly regarded in the French press advancing their careers on both sides of the Atlantic Others notably William Merritt Chase John Twachtman Childe Hassam and Thomas Wilmer Dewing part of the association known as The Ten found success working in the style of the French Impressionists while Henry Ossawa Tanner Cecilia Beaux and Elizabeth Jane Gardner focused on genre and history subjects This richly illustrated volume offers a sophisticated examination of cultural and aesthetic exchange as it highlights many figures including artists of color and women who were left out of previous histories Celebrated scholars from both American and French institutions detail the complex history and diverse styles of these expatriate artists styles ranging from conservative academic modes to Tonalism and provide original perspectives on this fertile period of creativity expanding our understanding of what constitutes American art New York Magazine ,1992-08-03 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Art and the Higher Life Kathleen A. Pyne,1996-01-01 Late in the nineteenth century many Americans were troubled by the theories of Charles Darwin which contradicted both traditional Christian teachings and the idea of human supremacy over nature and by an influx of foreign immigrants who challenged the supremacy of the old Anglo Saxon elite In response many people drew comfort from the theories of philosopher Herbert Spencer who held that human society inevitably develops towards higher and more spiritual forms In this illuminating study Kathleen Pyne explores how Spencer s theories influenced a generation of American artists She shows how the painters of the 1880s and 1890s particularly John La Farge James McNeill Whistler Thomas Dewing and the Boston school and the impressionist painters of the Ten developed an art dedicated to social refinement and spiritual ideals and to defending the Anglo Saxon elite of which they were members This linking of visual culture to the problematic conditions of American life radically reinterprets the most important trends in late nineteenth century American painting Selections of American Art R.H.
