Next Nature:

NEXT NATURE Koert van Mensvoort, 2020-12-17 Think of nature and you're likely to picture a forest not a freeway. But how natural is nature really? We live in a world of constructed wildlife reserves, rainbow tulips, designer babies, and cultured meat. We control a tomato's biology so precisely you can hardly call it natural anymore. Meanwhile, our grip on the Internet and the financial markets has grown so slight that they're coming to resemble forces of nature. Using countless well-known examples and scientific insights, Koert van Mensvoort shows how a technosphere is evolving on top of a biosphere billions of years old. He'll take you on an epic journey full of businesses that breathe, woods that smell like shampoo, and creatures that live on plastic. Along the way, a totally new view of the natural world will unfurl, one that's not only more realistic but infinitely more creative, exciting, and beautiful. To cope with the immense challenges facing the world today, we need to go forward, not back to nature.

Biomimicry for Aerospace Vikram Shyam, Marjan Eggermont, Aloysius F. Hepp, 2022-02-19 The solutions to technical challenges posed by flight and space exploration tend to be multidimensional, multifunctional, and increasingly focused on the interaction of systems and their environment. The growing discipline of biomimicry focuses on what humanity can learn from the natural world. Biomimicry for Aerospace: Technologies and Applications features the latest advances of bioinspired materials, properties, relationships for aerospace applications. Readers will get a deep dive into the utility of biomimetics to solve a number of technical challenges in aeronautics and space exploration. Part I: Biomimicry in Aerospace Education Design and Inspiration provides an educational background to biomimicry applied for aerospace applications. Part II: Biomimetic Design: Aerospace and Other Practical Applications discusses applications and practical aspects of biomimetic design for aerospace and terrestrial applications and its cross-disciplinary nature. Part III: Biomimicry and Foundational Aerospace Disciplines covers snake-inspired robots, biomimetic advances in photovoltaics, electric aircraft cooling by bioinspired exergy management, and surrogate model-driven bioinspired optimization algorithms for large-scale and complex problems. Finally, Part IV: Bio-Inspired Materials, Manufacturing, and Structures reviews nature-inspired materials and processes for space exploration, gecko-inspired adhesives, bioinspired automated integrated circuit manufacturing on the Moon and Mars, and smart deployable space structures inspired by nature. Introduces educational aspects of bio-inspired design for novel and practical technologies. Presents a series of bio-inspired technologies applicable to the field of aerospace engineering. Provides an introduction to nature-inspired design and engineering and its relevance to planning and developing the next generation of robotic and human space missions.

The Art of Environmental Activism in Indonesia Edwin Jurriëns, 2023-04-24 This book analyses the intersections between contemporary art and environmental activism in Indonesia. Exploring how the arts have promoted ecological awareness from the late 1960s to the early 2020s, the book shows how the arts have contributed to societal change and public and political responses to environmental crises. This period covers Indonesia's rapid urban development under the totalitarian New Order regime (1967-1998) as well as the enhanced freedom of expression alternative development models and environmental problems under the democratic governments since 1998 The book applies the concept of activism to refer to the vital role of art in activism It seeks to identify and contextualise both the potential and limits of environmental activism in Indonesia a country whose vibrant art scenes and monumental social transformations provide a productive laboratory for exploring the power of creativity as a social and political change agent It provides a comprehensive overview of contemporary art from Indonesia with an in depth analysis of activists who seek to address and find solutions for some of the most pressing environmental issues of our times With its detailed empirical approach to environmental art from Southeast Asia this project fills in an important gap in the literature on art and activism It is aimed at academics students artists curators policymakers activists and general readers with an interest in the environment art history and Indonesian culture society and politics
