

DESIGNING FOR ALL AGES & ABILITIES

Every design must meet the needs of a diverse range of potential bike riders. Across North America, however, many existing bike facility designs are not comfortable for only the luckiest people biking and exclude many who might otherwise ride.

IN ALL AGES & ABILITIES people have a right to safe, comfortable and usable ways for themselves and their families to get to work, school, and other destinations. Safe, usable, and comfortable bike facilities are essential for a healthy, sustainable, and equitable community. The Urban Bikeway Design Guide provides a comprehensive set of guidelines for designing bike facilities that are safe, usable, and comfortable for all ages and abilities. The guide is a resource for city planners, designers, and the public to create a more inclusive and equitable transportation system.

Third Edition

The third edition of the Urban Bikeway Design Guide revised (updated) existing design standards and guidelines to reflect the latest research and best practices. The guide is a resource for city planners, designers, and the public to create a more inclusive and equitable transportation system.

OUR VISION

Cities where safe, sustainable, and equitable transportation systems connect communities to the resources they need to thrive
