Global Science Fiction Gary Westfahl, 2025-06-09 Science fiction represents a diverse community of writers and readers that spans the entire world. This collection provides a global tour of the genre with essays about Latin American, European, African, Arabic, Indian, Japanese, and Chinese science fiction, providing insights about how writers around the world have explored and reinvigorated the genre. Essays by prominent critics from five continents inform about particular cultures and analyze representative texts by authors such as Tobias S. Buckell, Lourenco Mutarelli, Stanislaw Lem, Masande Ntshanga, Tawfiq Al Hakim, Anil Menon, and Cixin Liu. The contributing scholars examine how national experiences have shaped these narratives, which often differ strikingly from Anglo-American science fiction. An introductory survey of foreign language science fiction in the United States endeavors to explain why so many of these texts have remained unknown to Anglophone readers. An extensive bibliography lists numerous resources for further study of science fiction from various parts of the world.

embrace the diversity of thought and partake in the ongoing dialogue between these monumental works and the present day reader Using Open Data to Detect Organized Crime Threats Henrik Legind Larsen, José María Blanco, Raquel Pastor Pastor, Ronald R. Yager, 2017-04-07 This work provides an innovative look at the use of open data for extracting information to detect and prevent crime and also explores the link between terrorism and organized crime. In counter terrorism and other forms of crime prevention foresight about potential threats is vitally important and this information is increasingly available via electronic data sources such as social media communications. However the amount and quality of these sources is varied and researchers and law enforcement need guidance about when and how to extract useful information from them. The emergence of these crime threats such as communication between organized crime networks and radicalization towards terrorism is driven by a combination of political economic social technological legal and environmental factors. The contributions to this volume represent a major step by researchers to systematically collect filter interpret and use the information available. For the purposes of this book the only data sources used are publicly available sources which can be accessed legally and ethically. This work will be of interest to researchers in criminology and criminal justice particularly in police science organized crime counter terrorism and crime science. Time machine: Utopia or Science Fiction Kristijan Zrinski, 2013-06-26 Seminar paper from the year 2012 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 3 0 University of Trier language English abstract This term paper deals with the question which literary genre does The Time Machine by H G Wells fits best into. Should it be seen as a dystopian novel or should it be rather classified as a science fictional one and why is it so hard to classify. As the novel shows characteristics for either genres the novel has to be analysed accurately. In order to do so and find an answer to the main question I will point out and examine relevant passages in the text which will help classifying Wells work. Therefore it is essential to first of all define both literary genres. These definitions are to include the origin of the genre main characteristics as well as appropriate background information. As already mentioned the definitions will be followed by an in depth analysis of significant text passages Finally my conclusion is intended to sum up the most important findings and aims to present a classification based on the analysis in the main part Science-fiction Studies ,2001
