Readers Choice Digital Literacy:

The Digital Reading Condition Maria Engberg, Iben Have, Birgitte Stougaard Pedersen, 2022-12-30 This volume offers a critical overview of digital reading practices and scholarly efforts to analyze and understand reading in the mediatised landscape Building on research about digital reading born digital literature and digital audiobooks The Digital Reading Condition explores reading as part of a broader cultural shift encompassing many forms of media and genres Bringing together research from media and literary studies digital humanities scholarship on reading and learning as well as sensory studies and research on multimodal and multisensory media reception the authors address and challenge print biased conceptions of reading that are still prevalent in research whether the reading medium is print or digital They argue that the act of reading itself is changing and rather than rejecting digital media as unsuitable for sustained or focused reading practices they argue that the complex media landscape challenges us to rethink how to define reading as a mediated practice Presenting a truly interdisciplinary perspective on digital reading practices this volume will appeal to scholars and graduate students in communication media studies new media and technology literature digital humanities literacy studies composition and rhetoric

The Reading Lives of Teens Chin Ee Loh, 2024-11-04 In these changing times of global flows of media and technologies and reports of declining reading enjoyment researchers policymakers and educators need to engage anew with essential issues of what counts as reading what kinds of reading matter and how to support teen reading engagement in school and out of school settings Bringing together contributions from well known and emerging adolescent literacy researchers from different disciplinary perspectives this edited collection consolidates contemporary research on teens volitional print and digital reading whether in school or out of school contexts The first part of the book offers overviews of what teens are reading followed by chapters on community support on reading and new ways of researching teen reading With chapters from North America Europe Australia Asia and the Middle East the collection will offer multifaceted and complex insights into what how and why teens read in different contexts Reflection questions at the end of each chapter encourage readers to consider how the research can be applied in their own research policy and practice contexts This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers and educators who are invested in supporting adolescent engaged reading with evidence based policies and strategies

Digital Reading and Writing in Composition Studies Mary R. Lamb, Jennifer M. Parrott, 2019-03-13 As digital reading has become more productive and active the lines between reading and writing become more blurred This book offers both an exploration of collaborative reading and pedagogical strategies for teaching reading and writing that reflect the realities of digital literacies This edited scholarly collection offers strategies for teaching reading and writing that highlight the possibilities opportunities and complexities of digital literacies Part 1 explores reading and writing that happen digitally and offers frameworks for thinking about this process Part 2 focuses on strategies for the classroom by applying reading theories design principles and rhetorical concepts to instruction

Part 3 introduces various disciplinary implications for this blended approach to writing instruction. What is emerging is new theories and practices of reading in both print and digital spaces, theories that account for how diverse student readers encounter and engage digital texts. This collection contributes to this work by offering strategies for sustaining reading and cultivating writing in this landscape of changing digital literacies. The book is essential for the professional development of beginning teachers who will appreciate the historical and bibliographic overview as well as classroom strategies and for busy veteran teachers who will gain updated knowledge and a renewed commitment to teaching an array of literacy skills. It will be ideal for graduate seminars in composition theory and pedagogy, both undergraduate and graduate, and teacher education courses and will be key reading for scholars in rhetoric and composition interested in composition history, assessment, communication studies, and literature pedagogy.

Creating Equitable Literacy Learning Environments Helen Adam, 2025-11-24. This groundbreaking book introduces the Model for Equitable Literacy Learning Environments (MELLE), a comprehensive framework that integrates evidence-based instruction with culturally responsive pedagogy to create truly equitable learning environments for all children. Despite decades of reading instruction reform, persistent achievement disparities remain between students from marginalised communities and their more privileged peers. Drawing on extensive international research across Australia, the United Kingdom, and the United States, the author examines how three key dimensions—quality instruction, opportunity to read, and authentic representation in reading materials—must work together within supportive cultural and community contexts. Interwoven with real classroom examples, the text showcases how this framework can be applied to address persistent achievement gaps and promote inclusive education. Moving beyond polarised literacy debates, this book is a must-read for educators seeking practical solutions to create equitable learning environments that empower learners from a range of backgrounds.

Reading Teachers Teresa Cremin, Helen Hendry, Lucy Rodriguez Leon, Natalia Kucirkova, 2022-08-31. This engaging text offers primary school educators a principled way forward on their mission to nurture the life-changing habit of reading in childhood. Informed and inspiring, Reading Teachers accessibly demonstrates how teachers who are motivated, engaged, and reflective readers themselves can develop new understandings of reading for pleasure and make a difference to young learners. Drawing on a range of research evidence, including studies on reading teachers, disengaged boy readers, student teachers as readers, and work with over 150 schools developing communities of readers, this book provides an accessible overview of international research alongside a highly practical classroom focus. Combining the insights of academics with 24 reading teachers in co-authored chapters, the book includes case studies of how practitioners have used research to inform and improve their practice. In conversation dialogues between educators about classroom practice that fosters positive reader identities, reflections on the editors' own reading habits, practices, and histories, recommended reading, and suggestions of engaging children's books, Reading Teachers: Nurturing Reading for Pleasure enables practitioners to develop principled practice, helping all children find pleasure and purpose in reading This book is therefore essential reading for all primary teachers head teachers literacy coordinators and trainee teachers
