Manual Psychological Suspense:

A Manual of psychological medicine Sir John Charles Bucknill, 1874 A Manual of Psychological Medicine John Charles Bucknill, Daniel Hack Tuke, 1879 A manual of psychological medicine, by J.C. Bucknill and D.H. Tuke sir John Charles Bucknill, 1879 A Buddhist Manual of Psychological Ethics Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland, 1923 A Buddhist Manual of Psychological Ethics of the Fourth Century B.C., 1900 A Manual of Psychology George Frederick Stout, 1899

An effective introduction to Psychology must be clothed in living flesh and blood. The most essential gift to be imparted to the beginner is a real interest in the subject and a real power of dealing with it even when familiar formulas fail him. He ought to be able to do riders in Psychology as he does riders in Euclid. It is true that there are students who cannot advance so far from lack of natural endowment. But even for them a treatment full enough to be interesting and so rememberable is better than arid and dogmatic statements. Certainly the teacher who needs Psychology for educational purposes would do better to leave the subject alone altogether than to learn it in a merely external way.
