Overdue Assignment Taking Responsibility For Canadas Schools:

Overdue Assignment Jennifer Lewington, Graham W. F. Orpwood, 1995-02-01      Overdue Assignment Jennifer Lewington, Graham Orpwood, 1993      The State of the System Paul W. Bennett, 2020-09-23 Over the last fifty years Canada's public schools have been absorbed into a modern education system that functions much like Max Weber's infamous iron cage. Crying out for democratic school level reform the system is now a centralized bureaucratic fortress that every year becomes softer on standards for students less accessible to parents further out of touch with communities and surprisingly unresponsive to classroom teachers. Exploring the nature of the Canadian education order in all its dimensions The State of the System explains how public schools came to be so bureaucratic, confronts the critical issues facing kindergarten to grade 12 public schools in all ten provinces and addresses the need for systemic reform. Going beyond a diagnosis of the stresses, strains and ills present in the system Paul Bennett proposes a bold plan to re-engineer schools on a more human scale as the first step in truly reforming public education. In place of school consolidation and managerialism one size fits all, uniformly limited school choice and the success for all curriculum Bennett advocates for a new set of priorities: decentralize school governance, deprogram education ministries and school districts, listen to parents and teachers and revitalize local education democracy. Tackling the thorny issues besetting contemporary school systems in Canada The State of the System issues a clarion call for more responsive, engaged and accountable public schools.      The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings Chryse Hatzichristou, Sylvia Rosenfield, 2017-03-16 The rapid changes in the composition of school age youth around the world have catalyzed a growing concern about how to address children's mental health and education. Grounded in this increasingly global perspective The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings is designed to provide a multicultural transnational approach to consultation theory, research, training and practice in educational settings. With chapters written by geographically diverse and prominent scholars across the field of school psychology this handbook captures the range of ways in which consultation services are trained, implemented and researched internationally. Written for practitioners, researchers, faculty members and graduate students in the fields of school psychology, school counseling, special education and educational psychology this volume is the first of its kind to provide a comprehensive look at consultation in learning environments across the world. The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings offers various perspectives on models, implementation, training and research on school consultation. After an introduction to the volume by the editors, contributors to Part II examine school based consultation around the world to explore how consultation services are implemented in different countries. Part III addresses cross cultural issues in consultation particularly at a systems level. Part IV presents themes related to processes and issues in the implementation of consultation by focusing on approaches in various countries. The chapters in Part V focus on consultation training, offering insights into the development of students and professionals into effective consultants in cross cultural and systemic contexts.

Part VI describes how practitioners can contribute to the body of research on consultation through careful planning and implementation of their work Finally the editors summarize key concepts and findings in a concluding chapter

Standardized Testing in Canada Ross E. Traub, Canadian Education Association, 1994 A survey was undertaken to obtain information about the use of standardized tests in assessing the achievement of Canadian elementary and secondary school students This information was garnered from the ministries or departments of education of all ten Canadian provinces and one territory and a sample of about 120 of the local school boards in the country The questionnaires sent to the ministries and school boards were similar and consisted of two parts The first part contained questions of a general nature about the province wide testing program if any that had been conducted during the 1991 92 school year The second part of the questionnaire was focused on the particular tests used in system wide testing by province or board during any of the four academic years 1989 90 to 1992 93

Civic Education and Youth Political Participation, 2009-01-01 Why does it appear that many young people are disengaging from democracy and political participation For many governments politicians academics social commentators and researchers this is a serious and challenging problem Consequently widespread interest exists on how to engage young people in politics and democracy Civic education has re emerged as a possible answer to this question though not necessarily in the form in which it may be currently known This book examines research into issues about the engagement of young people in politics and democracy and examines research on civic education applications and programs which may address concerns about youth political participation Murray Print and Henry Milner are professors from the University of Sydney and the Universite de Montreal respectively They have brought together a group of leading researchers exploring the relationship between political participation and civic education to examine this relationship in greater depth

Education for the 21st Century D. Bhaskara Rao, 2003 Contents The International Commission on Education for the Twenty first Century chaired by Mr Jacques Delors proposed in his Report to UNESCO that building on the four pillars that are the foundations of education learning to be learning to know learning to do and learning to live together all societies aim to move towards a necessary Utopia in which none of the talents hidden like buried treasure in every person are left untapped This book incorporating the views and contributions made to for and about the International Commission on Education for the Twenty first Century shall show a way to educationists teachers and parents who lead the world into the 21st Century with great hope and courage for the prosperity of the mankind
