Media Front:

An Introduction to Fronts in Random Media Jack Xin,2009-06-17 This book aims to give a user friendly tutorial of an interdisciplinary research topic fronts or interfaces in random media to senior undergraduates and beginning graduate students with basic knowledge of partial differential equations PDE and probability. The approach taken is semiformal using elementary methods to introduce ideas and motivate results as much as possible then outlining how to pursue rigorous theorems with details to be found in the references section. Since the topic concerns both differential equations and probability and probability is traditionally a quite technical subject with a heavy measure theoretic component the book strives to develop a simplistic approach so that students can grasp the essentials of fronts and random media and their applications in a self contained tutorial. The book introduces three fundamental PDEs the Burgers equation Hamilton Jacobi equations and reaction diffusion equations analysis of their formulas and front solutions and related stochastic processes. It builds up tools gradually so that students are brought to the frontiers of research at a steady pace. A moderate number of exercises are provided to consolidate the concepts and ideas. The main methods are representation formulas of solutions Laplace methods homogenization ergodic theory central limit theorems large deviation principles variational principles maximum principles and Harnack inequalities among others. These methods are normally covered in separate books on either differential equations or probability. It is my hope that this tutorial will help to illustrate how to combine these tools in solving concrete problems

Global Jihadism Jarret M. Brachman,2008-09-03 Global Jihadism Theory and Practice exposes the core doctrine and strategy of today's global Jihadist movement

Proto-state Media Systems Carol Winkler,Kareem El Damanhoury,2022 Proto State Media Systems explores how decisions by contemporary violent extremist groups create develop and sustain media systems. Focusing on the cases of al Qaeda and ISIS this book showcases how standard media systems theory fails to fully explain the media systems of these organizations as a basis for building a revised theoretical lens that comprehends these emergent systems in the 21st century global media context. Utilizing constitutive and online networking theories Winkler and El Damanhoury explore how militant proto states create lasting adaptable identity based systems that work to attract and sustain the attention of followers. The groups appeals to transhistorical and transpatial identity formations in their media products reveal new insights about community formation and how we analyze media systems in the proto state context. Recognizing that nation states no longer exercise monopoly control over online and offline media systems Proto State Media Systems investigates how certain violent extremist groups bent on establishing sustained territorial and governing control over populations have revolutionized the media environment of the 21st century
