Adolescent Psychiatry, V. 23 Aaron H. Esman, 2013-05-13 Launched in 1971 Adolescent Psychiatry in the words of founding coeditors Sherman C Feinstein Peter L Giovacchini and Arthur A Miller promised to explore adolescence as a process to enter challenging and exciting areas that may have profound effects on our basic concepts Further they promised a series that will provide a forum for the expression of ideas and problems that plague and excite so many of us working in this enigmatic but fascinating field For over two decades Adolescent Psychiatry has fulfilled this promise The repository of a wealth of original studies by preeminent clinicians developmental researchers and social scientists specializing in this stage of life the series has become an essential resource for all mental health practitioners working with youth Volume 23 of The Annals begins with the late Richard Marohn's reexamination of Peter Blos's concept of prolonged adolescence followed by contributions on the developmental roots of adolescent disturbances the role of family interactions in adolescent depression the establishment of a therapeutic alliance with adolescents and the treatment of narcissistically disordered adolescents The assessment and treatment of adolescent substance abuse and of psychosomatic and depressive symptoms in adolescence receive timely consideration In a concluding section on School Based and Preventive Programs contributors address a range of important issues from adolescent sex and AIDS to the provision of mental health services in public and private schools to the need for school based suicide prevention programs In summary volume 23 shows adolescent psychiatry to be as vital as ever building on the clinical wisdom of the past while responding to the urgent challenges of the day

Working with Adolescent Violence and Abuse Towards Parents Amanda Holt, 2015-08-14 Adolescent violence and abuse towards parents is increasingly recognised as a global problem Inverting how we normally understand power to operate in abusive relationships it involves actors who cannot easily be categorised as victims or perpetrators and often impacts families who are experiencing multiple stressors and hardships and may be experiencing other forms of family abuse This unique book draws on an international selection of contributors to identify present and explore what we know about what works when supporting these families Exploring conceptual and theoretical challenges produced by this emerging social problem Part 1 discusses some well established intervention approaches and programmes looking at their theoretical base and relevant assessment delivery and evaluation issues It provides readers with a theoretical framework and toolkit for use in their own intervention work Part 2 presents examples of innovative practice with an emphasis on diverse institutional settings geographical locations and other important contexts that shape practice It provides readers with an understanding of some of the complexities involved in this kind of intervention work offering tools and strategies to be applied in their own work This interdisciplinary guide provides an essential resource for students and practitioners with an interest in domestic and family violence youth studies child protection drug and alcohol work and youth justice from a wide range of professional backgrounds
