Foucault on Painting Catherine M. Soussloff,2017-11-23 Michel Foucault had been concerned about painting and the meaning of the image from his earliest publications yet this aspect of his thought is largely neglected within the disciplines of art history and aesthetic theory In Foucault on Painting Catherine M Soussloff argues that Foucault's sustained engagement with European art history critically addresses present concerns about the mediated nature of the image in the digital age Foucault's writing on painting covers four discrete periods in European art history seventeenth century southern Baroque mid nineteenth century French painting Surrealism and figurative painting in the 1960s and 70s as well as five individual artists Velázquez Manet Magritte Paul Reyberolle and Gérard Fromanger As Soussloff reveals in this book Foucault followed a French intellectual tradition dating back to the seventeenth century which understands painting as a separate area of knowledge Painting a practice long considered silent in its operations and effects afforded Foucault an ideal discipline to think about history and philosophy simultaneously Using a comparative approach grounded in art history and aesthetics Soussloff explores the meaning of painting for Foucault's philosophy and for contemporary art theory proposing a new relevance for a Foucauldian view of ethics and the pleasures and predicaments of contemporary existence
