Paleobase Macro Part 3:

Biodiversity Databases Gordon B. Curry, Chris J. Humphries, 2016-04-19 With changes in technology and a renewed effort to catalog the world's biodiversity huge amounts of data are being generated on biodiversity issues. As a response to the call for better information systems to manage the biodiversity crisis a wide range of solutions are being developed for inventorying, managing and disseminating taxonomic data. This book brings together a diverse array of authors' expertise and assessors that discuss technical developments to improve the construction, population and dissemination of biodiversity information. It is designed to inform students and researchers of biodiversity about the changes and challenges that need to be understood by everyone in this information age.

Invertebrate Palaeontology and Evolution E. N. K. Clarkson, 2013-07-23 Invertebrate Palaeontology and Evolution is well established as the foremost palaeontology text at the undergraduate level. This fully revised fourth edition includes a complete update of the sections on evolution and the fossil record and the evolution of the early metazoans. New work on the classification of the major phyla in particular brachiopods and molluscs has been incorporated. The section on trace fossils is extensively rewritten. The author has taken care to involve specialists in the major groups to ensure the taxonomy is as up to date and accurate as possible.

PaleoBase N Macleod, 2006-10 A product from the PaleoBase project this book consists of approximately 1000 generic records drawn from the major invertebrate groups. It gives educators, students and researchers access to a virtual collection of the fossils many of which are specimens from the 19th and 20th century technical publications.
