Branch Rickey Lee Lowenfish, 2022-08-15 He was not much of a player and not much more of a manager but by the time Branch Rickey 1881-1965 finished with baseball he had revolutionized the sport not just once but three times. In this definitive biography of Rickey the man sportswriters dubbed The Brain The Mahatma and on occasion El Cheapo. Lee Lowenfish tells the full and colorful story of a life that forever changed the face of America's game. As the mastermind behind the Saint Louis Cardinals from 1917 to 1942 Rickey created the farm system which allowed small market clubs to compete with the rich and powerful. Under his direction in the 1940s the Brooklyn Dodgers became truly the first America's team. By signing Jackie Robinson and other black players he single handedly thrust baseball into the forefront of the civil rights movement. Lowenfish evokes the peculiarly American complex of God family and baseball that informed Rickey's actions and his accomplishments. His book offers an intriguing richly detailed portrait of a man whose life is itself a crucial chapter in the history of American business sport and society

Medical Self-care Tom Ferguson, 1980 Breathing Room Susan Elizabeth Phillips, 2009-10-13 Join the New York Times bestselling author on a journey to the sun washed hills of Tuscany. Another sexy wonderful contemporary love story with all the heart wisdom and wit that have made Susan Elizabeth Phillips the gold standard for women's fiction. Dr Isabel Favor author of Four Cornerstones for a Favorable Life has sacrificed everything to build her self help empire. Then in a matter of weeks it all comes crashing down. She loses her money to an unscrupulous accountant her fianc to a frumpy older woman and her reputation to headlines denouncing her as a fraud. America's diva of self help soon discovers she can fix everyone's life but her own. Broke heartsick and soul weary she heads for Italy in search of a little breathing room. Lorenzo Gage makes his living killing people on the silver screen that is. He's viciously handsome and sublimely talented. But as he begins his vacation in Italy he's also vaguely dissatisfied. Being a villain with a face to die for has its rewards but he hates the feeling that everything he's neglected in life is catching up with him. Then he spots Isabel sipping a glass of wine in a sidewalk caf. A good guy wouldn't think of seducing such a tidy looking woman, but he'd never seen the fun in playing the hero. It doesn't take long for Isabel to realize she's escaped one kind of chaos only to be plunged into another. Even the shelter of a simple stone farmhouse nestled in a Tuscan olive grove can't provide her with the refuge she needs, not when the townspeople are scheming to drive her away and her plan to restore her reputation has come up empty. And especially not when the man who deceived her refuses to leave her in peace. Breathing Room is a book for any woman who's dreamed of wandering through a vineyard of lazing under the Tuscan sky or of reforming a deliciously wicked man. This is a story of hope and renewal of love and redemption when it's needed the most. Sometimes it takes a special place, a special love, a little breathing room for life to deliver all its glorious promise.

Media Blight and the Dehumanizing of America William K. Shrader, 1992-04-30

This impassioned critique of contemporary mass culture argues that the media, particularly television, as the spearhead of electronic communications technology contributes to the pervasive demoralization of the American public. By stimulating the public with an endless stream of enticing, essentially unattainable illusions, the media produce what William K. Shrader calls the experiential bind, a phenomenon rooted in the incongruity between the two juxtaposed realms of vicarious and firsthand experience. The internalized bind causes a chronically irritated self-ideal discrepancy, producing morbid guilt. This condition is familiar to mental health specialists and is frequently invoked to explain the erratic and socially destructive behavior patterns of the mentally ill. Following a brief introduction, Chapter 1 describes the experiential bind and the media's imagery of unreality. This imagery is analyzed from two essential aspects: 1) the imagery of fantasy, which predominates in prime time network entertainment programming on television and in the majority of Hollywood movies; and 2) the imagery of doom, which predominates on television news programs shown in large cities across America every evening of the week. Chapter 2 is an elaboration of psychodynamic considerations, specifically how both aspects of unreality affect such human characteristics as self-esteem, feelings of inadequacy, guilt and narcissism. Chapter 3 continues with societal reverberations, including loss of community involvement and rampant consumerism. Chapter 4 turns to rehabilitation and prevention, drawing on Shrader's experience as a clinical psychologist and therapist counselor. Chapter 5 is concerned with the emergence of a technological society and its contribution to materialism in America. The final chapter presents concluding thoughts involving especially the author's theme that hedonistic materialism is America's Achilles Heel. Media Blight and the Dehumanizing of America is suitable for the general reader and will be particularly useful to scholars of
