Networks And Netwars:

Networks and Netwars John Arquilla, David Ronfeldt, 2001-11-05 Netwar like cyberwar describes a new spectrum of conflict that is emerging in the wake of the information revolution Netwar includes conflicts waged on the one hand by terrorists criminals gangs and ethnic extremists and by civil society activists such as cyber activists or WTO protestors on the other What distinguishes netwar is the networked organizational structure of its practitioners with many groups actually being leaderless and their quickness in coming together in swarming attacks To confront this new type of conflict it is crucial for governments military and law enforcement to begin networking themselves Networks and Netwars. The Future of

Terror, Crime, and Militancy, 2001 Netwar is the lower intensity societal level counterpart to our earlier mostly military concept of cyberwar Netwar has a dual nature like the two faced Roman god Janus in that it is composed of conflicts waged on the one hand by terrorists criminals and ethnonationalist extremists and by civil society activists on the other What distinguishes netwar as a form of conflict is the networked organizational structure of its practitioners with many groups actually being leaderless and the suppleness in their ability to come together quickly in swarming attacks The concepts of cyberwar and netwar encompass a new spectrum of conflict that is emerging in the wake of the information revolution This volume studies major instances of netwar that have occurred over the past several years and finds among other things that netwar works very well Whether the protagonists are civil society activists or uncivil society criminals and terrorists their networks have generally been successful In part the success of netwar may be explained by its very novelty much as earlier periods of innovation in military affairs have seen new practices triumphant until an appropriate response is discovered But there is more at work here The network form of organization has reenlivened old forms of licit and illicit activity posing serious challenges to those mainly the militaries constabularies and governing officials of nation states whose duty is to cope with the threats this new generation of largely nonstate actors poses Networks and Netwars John Arquilla, David F.

Ronfeldt, 2001 Netwar like cyberwar describes a new spectrum of conflict that is emerging in the wake of the information revolution Netwar includes conflicts waged on the one hand by terrorists criminals gangs and ethnic extremists and by civil society activists such as cyber activists or WTO protestors on the other What distinguishes netwar is the networked organizational structure of its practitioners with many groups actually being leaderless and their quickness in coming together in swarming attacks To confront this new type of conflict it is crucial for governments military and law enforcement to begin networking themselves Network Logic Helen McCarthy, Paul Miller, Paul Skidmore, 2004 New Political Religions, Or an Analysis of Modern Terrorism Barry Cooper, 2005-08 While terrorism has been used throughout the ages as a weapon in political struggles there is an essential difference between groups who use these tactics for more or less rational political goals and those seeking more apocalyptic ends Cooper argues that today's terrorists have a spiritual perversity that causes them to place greater significance on killing than on exploiting political grievances He supports his assertion with an analysis of two groups that share the characteristics of a pneumopathological consciousness Anum Shinrikyo the terrorist organization that poisoned thousands of Tokyo subway riders in 1995 and Al Qaeda the group behind the infamous 9 11 killings The Enemy of My Enemy George Michael,2006 In the violent world of radical extremists the enemy of my enemy is my friend This study reveals how that precept plays out in the unexpected bonding between militant Islam and the extreme right in America and Europe It provides an insightful and sane look at the possibilities for collaboration between these groups The Network Society Manuel Castells,2004 Manuel Castells has drawn together a group of contributors to explore the patterns and dynamics of the network society in its cultural and institutional diversity

National Journal ,2002 The Exploit Alexander R. Galloway,Eugene Thacker,2013-11-30 The network has become the core organizational structure for postmodern politics culture and life replacing the modern era s hierarchical systems From peer to peer file sharing and massive multiplayer online games to contagion vectors of digital or biological viruses and global affiliations of terrorist organizations the network form has become so invasive that nearly every aspect of contemporary society can be located within it Borrowing their title from the hacker term for a program that takes advantage of a flaw in a network system Alexander R Galloway and Eugene Thacker challenge the widespread assumption that networks are inherently egalitarian Instead they contend that there exist new modes of control entirely native to networks modes that are at once highly centralized and dispersed corporate and subversive In this provocative book length essay Galloway and Thacker argue that a whole new topology must be invented to resist and reshape the network form one that is as asymmetrical in relationship to networks as the network is in relation to hierarchy The Real Wealth of Nations Riane Eisler,Riane Tennenhaus Eisler,2008-11-10 Bestselling author Riane Eisler The Chalice and the Blade which has sold more than 500 000 copies sold shows that at the root of all of society s big problems is the fact that we don t value what matters She then presents a radical reformulation of economics priorities focused on the home Information & security ,2005

Intelligence and Security Informatics ,2005 Noble Networks? Jem Bendell,Annekathrin Ellersiek,2009 This paper draws attention away from individual engagement in social movements and from single non governmental organizations NGOs toward inter organizational networks of civil organizations and their role in public policy processes P iv

Intelligence and Security Informatics Hsinchun Chen,2003-05-20 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the First NSF NIJ Symposium on Intelligence and Security Informatics ISI 2003 held in Tucson AZ USA in June 2003 The 24 revised full papers and 16 revised short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in the book The papers are organized in topical sections on data management and data mining deception detection analytical techniques for crime detection visualization knowledge management and adoption collaborative systems and methodologies and monitoring and surveillance Networks and Netwars John Arquilla,1999 Bombings of US embassies in Africa remind us that US citizens and US interest are not immune to terrorism This book traces the evolution of international terrorism against civilian and US military targets looks ahead to where terrorism is going and assess The Architecture of Drug Trafficking Michael Kenney, 2007 Censoring Culture Robert Atkins, Svetlana Mintcheva, 2006 If your idea of censorship is an anonymous bureaucrat in a government office exercising prudish control over offensive art and speech wake up and smell the conglomeration Censorship today is just as likely to be the result of a market force or a bandwidth monopoly as a line edit or the covering of a nude sculpture and the current system of new technologies and economic arrangements has subtly built in mechanisms for suppressing free expression as powerful as any known in other centuries In Censoring Culture the nationally known author of the ArtSpeak books and the head of the National Coalition Against Censorship's Arts Program bring together the latest thinking from art historians cultural theorists legal scholars and psychoanalysts as well as first person accounts by artists and advocates to give us a comprehensive understanding of censorship in a new century
